INDIANA FARES ARE UNCHANGED

New Railroad Rates, With 20 Per Cent Increase, Apply Only to Tickets Outside State.

IS CONTRARY TO IMPRESSIONS

Rushville People Thought Local Rates Would be Raised—Freight and Pullman Rates Increased

A general misunderstanding seems to prevail among people of the state, according to L. C. Snodgrass, passenger agent here for the C. I. & W. and Pennsylvania railroads, in regards to the 20 per cent increase on passenger fares that go into effect tomorrow on all steam lines in this state.

The new increase calls for a 20 per cent addition to all tickets termed as interstate tickets, but on intrastate tickets the fares do not advance, and Rushville people are more concerned with the intrastate travel than for travel beyond the state.

The general impression has been that the fares would advance on all tickets, and that the rate between here and Indianapolis would advance from $1.29 to $1.44, or a 20 per cent increase. Fares within the state are unchanged, while from Indiana to another state, the 20 per cent increase is added.

The confusion probably arose when recently 23 electric lines in Indiana applied for a 20 per cent increase, stating that they wanted to be put on an equal with the steam lines. In case their increase is granted to apply within the state, the steam lines will offer cheaper transportation in Indiana between local points.

The new rates which are effective tomorrow will affect Rushville as follows: to Cincinnati the fare will be $3.20, the rate formerly being $2.66; to St. Louis the new rate will be $11.19, the old rate being $9.32; to Chicago, the new rate will be $8.68, the old rate being $7.24. All of these fares include the 8 per cent war tax.

Increased rates are also in effect tomorrow and are on the same basis as the passenger increases, applying to interstate business, and not affecting the rates within Indiana.

The new freight rates are advanced from 33 to 40 per cent tomorrow on all shipments outside of the state, depending upon the distance, and the

MANY REPUBLICANS AT DISTRICT RALLY

Automobiles Leave During Morning For Connorsville to Attend Campaign Opening

THOUSAND FROM THIS COUNTY

Rush county republicans began to go early today to Connorsville for the sixth district republican rally, which marked the opening of the campaign in this section of the state. Senator James E. Watson of this city was scheduled to make the principal address at the close of the program.

Many decorated automobiles left here during the morning, covered with flags and placards bearing campaign slogans. It was estimated that close to a thousand Rush county republicans were at the rally.

In connection with the announcement yesterday that Harry Hoover of Richmond, the only Indiana civil war veteran who was at Ford's theater in Washington the night Lincoln was assassinated, would make the opening address this morning, John Mousner of this city this morning stated that although he was not in Washington the night of the assassination, he was their early the next morning. He stated that his company which was in camp near Washington, made a hurried trip to the capital when news of the assassination was received, and was on guard at sunrise the next morning to prevent disorder which was expected after the tragedy.

SAYS WIFE ABANDONED HIM

Thomas F. Ball Files Suit Against Edna M. Ball For Divorce

Thomas F. Ball this morning filed suit for divorce from Edna M. Ball alleging cruel and inhuman treatment, in that she abandoned him without cause, stating that she would rather be single, according to the complaint. Mr. Ball states that for the last two years he has been a resident of Posey and Ripley townships and that they were married in January 1915 and separated in July of this year, when she is alleged to have abandoned him. The defendant is now supposed to be a resident of Indianapolis. The complaint says further that before their separation she charged him with being intimate with other women, which he says is untrue.

SEVERELY INJURED WHEN A MULE BOLTS

Miss Dove Meredith is Hurt in Accident While Visiting in Mountains in Alabama

IS CAUGHT UNDER A BUGGY

Miss Dove Meredith of this city, who has been visiting her brother-in-law, Orville Herkless at Bridgeport, Alabama, suffered painful injuries in an accident last week, according to word which has just been received here by relatives.

Miss Meredith and Mrs. Miles Standish, who has been hostess to the Rushville party for several days at her home on a mountain in the Tennessee river, were on their way to the ferry in a buggy drawn by a white mule, when the animal suddenly bolted, ran up the side of a cliff and upset the buggy. Miss Meredith and Mrs. Standish were caught under the vehicle and Miss Meredith's shoulder was very severely hurt. The occupants of the buggy would have been seriously if not fatally injured if the mule had not lain quietly until help arrived. A man who was riding ahead of them lifted the buggy off the two women.

Miss Meredith's sister, Miss Laura Meredith, and niece, Miss Margaret Herkless, are with her, and they are expected home the latter part of this week or the first of next week.

WHEAT PLOWING IN PROGRESS IN COUNTY

Early Indications Are That The Acreage Will be Exceptionally Large This Year

CORN YIELD WILL BE BIG.

A large acreage in Rush county has been broken for wheat and plowing is in progress in many sections following the recent rains. The ground is in such condition that it turns easily and the farmers are plowing as many fields as possible. Much oats and clover ground will be sown to wheat this fall.

The small crop this year will result in a large acreage. Some farmers predicted that the failure this summer would cause a smaller acreage, but this does not seem to be the case. Farmers generally expect the price of wheat to remain high for another year or two.

The corn crop will be one of the largest in the history of the county unless it is nipped by early frosts. Many fields were planted late in the spring and will not mature before the first or tenth of October. The cool weather during the last week has retarded growth but farmers are confident that the mature will be saved if warmer weather returns and there is no frost until after the tenth of October.

WATSON SPEAKS TO HARDING CLUB

Delivers Principal Address at Opening of Presidential Campaign in Indianapolis

REITERATES STAND ON PEACE.

Declares Technical State of War Can be Removed Quickest by Adopting Resolution

Senator James E. Watson delivered the principal address at the opening of the presidential campaign in Indianapolis, last night, by the Harding club. The meeting was held at the Marion Club and was regarded as a curtain-raiser for the visit of Indiana republicans at Marion, O., Saturday.

Warren T. McCray, republican nominee for governor, spoke briefly before Senator Watson was introduced by Elias J. Jacoby, president of the Indianapolis Harding club. The Indianapolis Star this morning reports Senator Watson's speech in part as follows:

Senator Watson dwelt strongly on Democratic extravagances, struck at Socialism said that the Democratic administration has failed to deal with the Mexican problem, declared that there never would have been a Mexican problem so far as this country was concerned if a Roosevelt had been in the White House; that a Republican national administration will deal with Mexico without going to war, and said that the new women voters will vote against Democratic prices of sugar. He then discussed the League of Nations issue, advocating the reservations which he believes the Senate ought to have incorporated.

Senator Watson said that the war long ago ended and that peace long ago was restored, and that we remain only technically at war. He said that this technical state of war could be removed quickest by the adoption by Congress of a simple resolution, declaring that a state of peace exists and without any further negotiations with Germany.

"I maintain," said Senator Watson, "that as a matter of law and fact we are at peace with Germany, first, because, of the terms of the armistice of November 11, 1916; second, because of the actual ceasing of hostilities; third, because of the utter extinction of the government against which we made our declaration; and fourth, because of the negotiations by us, and our associates in the war with Germany, and the ratification by our associates and Germany, of a treaty of peace which specifically provided for the termination of hostilities and a resumption of diplomatic relations, which treaty is now in force and observed everywhere in the world, and has in fact, under international law, brought peace to the whole world, including ourselves.

"If we were seeking money or territory or making other exactions upon Germany by way of reparation or if she were making demands or claims upon us, then it would be necessary to have representatives appointed to formulate terms of peace, but such is not the case. Neither nation wants anything from the other; it is not necessary for Germany to repeal any declaration of war because she never made any, and all we need to do to end this technical state of war is to pass a resolution saying that this state of war that exists between the United States and Germany no longer exists, because the facts upon which it was predicated have ceased to be."

The senator strongly urged "Americanizing reservation for the League of Nations covenant". He said that the Senate did not try to ditch the league covenant, but that it was urged that American interests and American ideas be safeguarded and preserved.

The senator added that the adoption of such a resolution will remove the technical state of war and that no further negotiations with Germany are required.

WOMEN ELIGIBLE TO JURY SERVICE

May be Called to Serve on Circuit Court, City Court or Justice of Peace Juries

VOTE BRINGS NEW DUTIES

Only Requirement is That They be Freeholders or Householders—May be on Grand Jury

Women on the juries sitting in circuit, city and justice of the peace courts is not one of the impossibilities of the near future when the federal government announces that the suffrage amendment to the constitution is effective, following ratification by Tennessee, the thirty-sixth state.

Indiana women, upon becoming voters, will automatically assume new duties, not the least of which will be jury service, in cases where they are freeholders or householders.

The provision of the Indiana law laying down the qualifications for jury service says that "To be qualified for jury service a person must be a resident voter of the county and a freeholder or householder".

It is noted that the statute uses the term "resident voter of the county" in no restricted sense, indicating that the voter may be male or female. There seems to be no room for question about the matter and women sitting on a jury in the circuit court may be a uncommon sight in the very near future.

They are subject to call for jury service in any court and are just as liable to have their initial experience in Squire J. P. Stech's court as in the court of Judge Sparks. Furthermore, they may be called on by the chief of police to sit on the jury in city court.

It is not improbable that women may be called on to serve as jurors of the circuit court during the September term, although there is no authority for such a statement, but it is not beyond the pale of impossibility. Farmers are generally busy during the fall and jurors are frequently hard to get.

Contrary to the custom in some courts, the jury box from which the names are drawn by the jury commissioners of the Rush circuit court, is filled before the opening of each term of court. In some courts the box is filled with the names of freeholders and householders the first of each year.

The Rush county jury commissioners are Joe Cowing, republican, and Cary Jackson, democrat. Mr. Cowing said today that he had not given the question any thought but that he and the other member would consult with Judge Sparks about the question before filling the jury box for the September term of court, which will open Monday, September

The same situation would obtain with grand jurors as well as petit jurors. Women might be called on to pass on questions under investigation and vote as to whether indictments should be returned.

There is, of course, some humorous speculation as to the sort of experience that will result from women being used for jury service. The general guess is that a jury composed in part of women and in part of men would be much more likely to agree than a jury composed entirely of women. It has been facetiously remarked that there are no twelve women in the world who could get together on the merits of a lawsuit. A favorite prediction is that if a woman ever "hangs" a jury, it will be "hung" for keeps—she will let the court house rot down around her before she will knock under for those who differ with her.

But all jokes aside, it is probable that Rush county will be using women for jurors at a very early date, and no one need worry about their ability for such service. Down in their boots most men know that if they were really seeking justice they would just as soon submit their case to twelve of the representative women of Rush county as to any twelve men. Neither the courts nor any of our other institutions are going to

ROAD IS FINALLY ACCEPTED

Brookville Highway Through This City Meets Governor's Approval

Governor Goodrich yesterday afternoon signed three road bills approved by the Indiana state highway commission among them being the Brookville road, running through this city, which has been held up for several weeks on account of the failure of the governor to sign the bill. It was generally understood that the road would also be approved by Governor Goodrich. The other two roads which he signed were the "Adaway" route between Kentland and Hammond and the Jackson way between Wolcott and Montmorenci.

FILES INJUNCTION TO RESTRAIN SEC'Y COLBY

Anti-Suffrage Leaders Bring Suit in Washington to Enjoin Colby From Proclaiming Amendment

WILL HEAR THE ARGUMENTS

(By United Press)

Washington, Aug. 25—The anti-suffrage fight against the nineteenth amendment was transferred to Washington today when a suit to enjoin Secretary of State Colby from proclaiming the amendment, was filed in the district court of Columbia. Justice Siddons, of the district court, was asked to issue a ruling for Secretary of State Colby to show a cause where such an injunction should not be granted.

Siddons stated he would not issue such a rule until arguments have been advanced to show he had jurisdiction. Charles Fairchild, head of the American Constitutional league, who entered the plea, said he would prepare such arguments late today or tomorrow.

Meanwhile there is no obstacle in the way of Colby's promulgating the suffrage amendment which he expects to do as soon as the Tennessee ratification has been received by him. The certification is now in the mails.

Fairchild asked for an injunction on the ground that the Tennessee legislature, in ratifying the amendment violated the state constitutional provision that the election of the legislature must intervene between the time an amendment is submitted and the time it is ratified.

NORMAL PRODUCTION EXPECTED THIS WEEK

Indiana Miners Agree Upon Wage Scale Adopted by Scale Committee—Operations Resumed

GIVEN $1.50 A DAY INCREASE

Terre Haute, Ind., Aug. 25—Production of coal in Indiana was expected to be restored to a normal basis within three or four days following agreement on the miner's wages by the joint scale committee of the union and operators.

Some of the strikers were returning to work today but district officers of the united mine workers held out little hope for a 100 per cent production before the end of this week.

Retroaction to August 16, the new scale gives a daily increase of $1.50 per day to the outside and monthly men whose walkout is combined with that of the day men, which forced idleness of the entire Indiana coal fields.

These workers demanded an increase of $2.00 a day which would equalize the wage rates agreed on by President Wilson's coal commission. The wage scale decision makes a daily wage of $7.50. A 25 percent boost was given the inside men and boys.

RAILROADS MUST BE REHABILITATED

Gov. Cox in Address Today at Princeton, Declares That Welfare Depends Upon Transportation

GREETs MINERS AND FARMERS

Says it is His Chief Aim to Explain Senatorial Plot and Reveal Its Working Interests

Princeton, Ind., Aug. 25—No question is more important than the rehabilitation of the railroads, Governor James Cox declared here this afternoon in his speech before a big southern Indiana Democratic rally.

With many miners and farmers in his audience, Cox declared that the welfare of both as well as the general public is directly related to the railroad problem.

"During the time of reactionary policy," the governor said, "too many of the railroad systems were part of a political organization and personal exploitation in stock job operations prevented intense interest in public welfare which was essential.

"It now behooves the government and public to help in establishing efficiency both in rolling stock and in operation. Referring to the miners dispute in this section, he said he believed the condition of the railroads was largely responsible for the strike.

He pointed out with the scarcity of cars the miners have been able to work only part of the time and consequently have been forced to demand higher pay, which then in turn caused higher coal prices.

Cox reiterated his charge that "fabulous sums of money have been contributed to the republican campaign by selfish and greedy interests" but withheld detailed information, back of it, which he has promised to give in his Pittsburg address.

He also attacked the senatorial oligarchy and declared "it is my privilege and it is my chief aim to explain the senatorial plot and to reveal the interests that are a part of it."

RUSSIA MUST REPLY WITHIN 48 HOURS

Europe Will be in Midst of Another War if Anglo-Italian Note is Not Answered Quickly

INVOLVES MANY COUNTRIES

London, Aug. 25—Whether the most of Europe again will be involved in war was expected today to be decided within forty-eight hours. Russia has until Friday evening to reply to the Anglo-Italian note demanding modification of her peace terms to Poland.

Premier Lloyd George has informed the Bolsheviks through Arthur Balfour, Lord President of the council, that unless a satisfactory reply is forthcoming within the time limit, Great Britain will change its policy toward Russia.

In the event of resumption of hostilities on a meager scale, Germany may become partially involved since sentiment of the German population bordering on Poland is frankly pro-Russian.

Bolshevik representatives have already applied for passports and expect to leave London on Friday in event the government fails to obey the demands.

As word was awaited from Moscow the Minsk correspondent of the Herald telegraphed that the Polish armistice delegation have definitely rejected the Russian terms and refuse even to discuss disarmament, demobilization or creation of a civil militia. The next session of the commission was expected to be in the final one, the correspondent said.

JAPANESE DON'T LIKE JONES' SHIPPING BILL

Exclusion of Foreign Commerce With Certain Restrictions Causes Stir in Japanese Circles

TO AFFECT TRADE RELATIONS

(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Tokyo, Aug. 1 (By Mail)—While there is considerable indignation and consternation in shipping circles here as a result of the passage at Washington of the Jones merchant marine bill, at least some Japanese are able to see Japan is not in position to object with any great degree of justice, as long as she herself has on her statute books laws which operate against foreigners.

Already there have been a number of protests sent to the government by various organizations of shipping and business men, but no hint has yet been given as to what form the cabinet's protest will take.

In memorials forwarded to the government to provisions of the bill that are most objectionable to Japanese interests are: (1) prohibition of foreign ships from entering American harbors where they engage in competition with American ships by means of rebates, etc.; (2) inclusion of the Philippines with the scope of the coastwise shipping law, thus preventing foreign bottoms from engaging in trade between the Philippines and the United States; (3) abolition of special overland freight rates; and (4) imposition of customs dues against foreign shipping.

Various predictions have been made as to what the effect of the operation of the bill will be on Japanese shipping. Thus it has been claimed that it will effect eighty per cent of the Japanese merchant marine, and that, as a consequence the big Nippon Yusen Kaisha and Osaka Shosen Kaisha lines, may be withdrawn from North American trade, being placed on the South American run instead in the hope of developing this business, which showed considerable growth during war years, but which has since then been dwindling.

classification of the freight. This increase will add from 60 cents to one dollar on the ton for coal, shipped to this city from West Virginia mines.

A new schedule of freight rates to apply for shipments within the state are now being considered before the Public Service Commission of Indiana, in which all railroads are seeking higher rates for shipments within the state.

The Pullman Company, a separate corporation from the railroad companies, will also have new rates in effect tomorrow, which will be equal to a fifty per cent increase, for berths and seats.

MANITOBAN TEACHERS PLEASED WITH SALARY

Board of Arbitration Awarded Teachers Fifty Dollars a Year More Than They Demanded

MINIMUM WAGE IS $1.00

Selkirk, Man., Aug. 25—When the schools here re-open this fall it is believed that this school district will have the most contented lot of teachers in Canada. This happy state of affairs has been brought about by action of a permanent board of arbitration established by the provincial government at the request of the Manitoba Teacher's Federation.

The board has just awarded the teachers fifty dollars a year more than they had demanded of the board of trustees and the minister of education has expressed himself as pleased with the award. The teachers had asked for a minimum salary of $1,050; the trustees stood pat at $1,000 and the board of arbitration, consisting of one representative from the teachers federation, one from the School Trustees' Association and one from the government placed the minimum at $1,100.

Deputy Minister of Education Robert Fletcher says the result of the board's decision will be to stabilize the profession and that there will be less shifting around and fewer teachers leaving Manitoba.

Amusements

"The Very Idea" at the Princess

Taylor Holmes will come to the Princess Theatre today in his newest, funniest comedy, "The Very Idea", adapted to the screen from the New York comedy success by William LeBaron.

Those who still are chuckling over the comedian's last appearance, in "Nothing But The Truth" will have in this most recent production an attraction which is utterly different; except that it is fully as hilarious and diverting.

Mr. Holmes will be seen as Gilbert Goodhue, a young husband who has been pampered all his life and who finds, after his marriage, that his wife is of the same sort. The think they both want above all things is a baby, and doctors have assured Gilbert that Edith is too frail.

There are so many babies in the world, grown up otherwise, that it would seem on first thought an easy matter to get one of them without its being missed. But the story of "The Very Idea" belies this assumption. Edith's brother, an authority of eugenics, comes to the rescue confidently. That is only the start of the trouble. What follows forms one of the most absurdly funny, yet none the less human and appealing comedies ever written.

Oriental Joan of Arc

A horde of fearless Arabian horsemen, charging across the desert on their black steeds, and led by a slip of a girl—an Oriental Joan of Arc—is one of the exciting scenes in "The Virgin of Stamboul" the Universal photodrama to be seen here at the Mystic theater next Monday and Tuesday. The program is being put on for benefit purposes by the local chapter of the Psi Iota Xi sorority.

The leading role is taken by Priscilla Dean, often called "the wildest of the screen". In this new role of an Oriental spitfire, Miss Dean outdoes by far her former successes.

Her fervor in flying to aid her sweetheart, the courageous young American soldier of fortune who has been captured by a villainous sheik, is one of the best portrayals of love sacrifice ever shown on the screen.

TWO MACHINES COLLIDE

Two automobiles collided at the intersection of Second and Harrison streets this afternoon at on o'clock, with little damage being done to either machine. A light delivery truck owned by the Schlosser Creamery company was going west on Second street, and a light roadster driven by James Jones was going north in Harrison, and the two machines came together at the intersection. The left rear wheel of the truck was damaged, but aside from that no other damage resulted.

Guess Again

Franklin D. Roosevelt glibly remarks that the tariff is no longer in politics. See that? Poof! a wave of the hand, and it is banished. Strange that the democratic party in its San Francisco platform should reaffirm its adherence to the policy of a tariff for revenue only. Furthermore, confuting his statement that the tariff commission is a non-partisan body, attention is called to the fact that while the law so provided, Mr. Wilson appointed but one Republican to that commission, and he was a type who readily adhered to the presidential ideas.

The truth of the matter is that the tariff can not be removed from politics so long as there are two schools of thought representing free trade and protection. The tariff commission can investigate until it is black in the face, but it cannot legislate because congress lacks the power to delegate legislation. Hence, the commission's reports to congress must of necessity be subjected to congressional scrutiny and the pro-

MRS. LUCY DOUCETTE of Manchester, N. H., who says she's just so happy over the way Tanlac restored her health she can't keep from telling people about it.

"I am just so happy over the way Tanlac has restored my health that I can't keep from telling people about it," said Mrs. Lucy Doucette, of 76 Stark street, Manchester, New Hampshire, a few days ago. "I suffered so long with chronic indigestion that I didn't know what it was to sit down and enjoy a single meal. My stomach was so badly disordered I had to live on the strictest diet and nothing seemed to agree with me. At times my breath seemed to be cut off, and I would suffer terribly for hours at a time.

"I lost my strength completely and became so weak and run-down I would give out several times during the day and would have to stop and rest. I was extremely nervous and irritable, and just felt like I would break down completely.

"One day I saw a statement from a friend of mine who said Tanlac had helped her wonderfully, so I was convinced it was a dependable medicine and I began taking it immediately, and I am more than pleased at the splendid results. My appetite improved right from the first, and the horrible indigestion from which I suffered so long has entirely disappeared.

"I have now finished my fourth bottle, and can eat just anything I wish without any bad after-effects. I also sleep better and have more strength and energy. It is a pleasure to tell others what Tanlac has done in my case."

Tanlac is sold in Rushville by F. B. Johnson Co., in Milroy by Dallas Copper, in Manila by Geo. J. Inlow, in Arlington by Mrs. L. T. Davis, in Carthage by Otto C. McCarty, and in New Salem by Mrs. Jos. Hankins, R. R. 2—Adv.

tectionist will find meat for his argument equally with the free trader. Immediately the tariff becomes a political issue. Mr. Roosevelt's ignorance of this fact shows his pitiful unfamiliarity with economic questions. Imagine him presiding as President of the United States Senate. Senators get into a heated discussion as to the proper rate of duty on lumber. "Tut! Tut! gentlemen", admonishes Franklin D., "you are indulging in empty argument. I have decreed that the tariff is no longer an issue". And, if they persisted in the debate he would reach for that gavel, carved from the handrail of the Presidential yacht, and beat one of the gentlemen on the head. That would tickle a lot of thoughtless chaps who like good burlesque, but it would raise hob throughout the country.

Community Betterment

Scarcely a week passes that some well-intentioned citizen does not have a suggestion for the betterment of his home community. No sooner is the suggestion made than some other good citizen objects, principally because he does not like the first citizen.

It is human nature and we are just as human here as elsewhere. But there is a better way—a way that is quite as human and more humanizing.

Forget your antipathy toward the man and think only of his suggestion—of what it will do for the town—of what it will mean to you as a citizen of the town.

Very few good citizens think exactly alike. Many are diametrically opposite in their convictions, in their tastes, in their likes and dislikes.

But there is a common ground upon which we may all meet and bury our animosities.

That is the common good of all—the betterment of our community—the fostering of the welfare of our collective citizenry for the benefit of each individual citizen, and for the benefit of ourselves.

It is the starting point of prosperity—the grave of adversity.

It is the point of view all should seek, and find.

Candidate Cox says the republican campaign fund is fifteen million and Candidate Roosevelt says it is thirty millions. Even though they are separated by several miles of country, they might compare notes through the mails and not make another blunder such as this.

The foolish man makes a big noise over a little thought. That is the reason he is foolish.

Beware of the fellow who knows it all. He knows nothing and doesn't know it.

If your neighbor is full of faults let others tell them to you.

Honesty wins its own reward, but often it fails of delivery.

Greater than the honor of being president, is to be known as the man who put him there.

Current Comment

Playing to Meeds

(Chicago Tribune)

In the interview given Eye Witness by Governor Cox the Democratic candidate says: "They (the people) are weary of wars and thinking of wars. They are tired of looking backward and of trying to solve the past and its problems".

In this Governor Cox speaks not like a statesman but as a politician. What is the object of an assertion which is uncontested in so far as it is true and for the rest obviously untrue?

"The people are weary of wars and thinking of wars", says Governor Cox. The people are also weary of disease, of too much labor, of injustice. The people have never been otherwise than weary of wars except when they were willing to make war. Europe is full of people who are weary of war in the abstract doubtless, but who are not so weary but that they are making war and thinking more war. And the American people, though they may be weary of wars and of thinking of wars, would tomorrow think of war and make war if an occasion they deemed sufficient offered, such as the sinking of the Maine.

Governor Cox's remark is simply a playing to the mood of reaction which in America has naturally and inevitably followed the effort and sacrifice of a war. It is doubtless good politics, but it is not patriotic statesmanship. The American people are not military or militaristically inclined. On the contrary, they went into the late war with considerable doubt and reluctance, and they want to be rid of all its consequences and free to follow their fortunate and peaceful daily existence as soon as possible. So they are weary of thinking of wars.

But being weary of thinking does not dispose of the duty or desirability of thinking. Politicians, not only of Governor Cox's persuasion, but, we are sorry to say, of the Republican also, have been quick to follow the popular mood. By so doing they exploit a human weakness instead of protecting the people from it.

Being weary of the sacrifices and penalties of wars does not prevent wars, nor does being weary of thinking of wars justify not thinking of wars. We do not enjoy thinking of cancer or tuberculosis, of tempest drought, famine, pestilence, or sudden death. We are weary of all the evils of life, but the statesman or individual who allows his distaste of them to lure him into refusing to think of them or trying to make provision for dealing with them is not acting with common sense or in the true interest of his country or himself.

REVIVAL CONTINUES

The revival meeting which has been going on at the Corner of Ninth and Oliver street is still in progress. Evangelist M. P. Rimmer preached a very good sermon last evening to a number of earnest listeners. All are invited to attend these gospel meetings each evening at 7:30 o'clock. Special music is provided.

PREPARE TO DOUBLE VOTING MACHINERY

Many States Start Machinery Working That Will Provide Voting Facilities for Women

CERTIFICATION IS EXPECTED.

In Hartford Conn., it is Estimated 20,000 Women Will be Eligible For The Ballot

New York, Aug. 25—Confident that certification of the Tennessee legislature's action on suffrage will not be delayed and that Secretary of State Colby's proclamation making effective the nineteenth amendment to the Constitution will follow quickly, officials in many states already have started the machinery working that will provide voting facilities for the women.

In Philadelphia the city council is expected to appropriate $165,000 to register women.

In Hartford, Conn., it is estimated 20,000 women will be eligible for the ballot. Politicians contend that a special session of the legislature is necessary to provide machinery for the enrollment.

Fifty new voting precincts have been established by the city election board in Cleveland and new booths are now in course of construction. Approximately 50,000 women now have the right of franchise in Cleveland, it was estimated. The city expects to spend $30,000 for the extra election facilities required.

Work of registering women voters of Massachusetts is being rushed by state authorities. Approximately 30,000 women have registered in Boston where books closed last night. The Massachusetts Suffrage Association has opened an educational campaign.

Minnesota officials will double all election machinery. Election officials throughout the state have already received sufficient material to register the 400,000 or more women who are expected to take advantage of suffrage in Minnesota.

Special legislation will be necessary in Missouri to enable the women of that state to vote in the presidential election in November. The Governor said some time ago that if such legislation was necessary he would call a special session of the legislature.

OPPOSES THE SALE OF PRISON MADE GOODS

Labor Federation in Convention at Evansville Attacks Policy of Selling "Free Labor" Sales

CITES LAW IN THE CASE

Evansville, Ind., Aug. 25—When the Indiana Federation of Labor met here today the chief problem placed before it was the sale of prison made products in competition with those made by "free-labor".

The State Federation has opposed the open market of such products said Adolph Fritz, secretary-treasurer, of the organization but it will take a more emphatic stand this year than ever before.

He said his information is that in some instances state institutions buy in the open market goods which could be purchased from the state penal institutions. The result Fritz believes is that prisoners who should be working on goods for sale in state institutions, are kept to work on articles to be sold in the open market.

"There is a law in this state," said Fritz, "which requires that as far as possible all state institutions shall use prison made products bought from the penal institutions of the state. Some time ago I visited the broom factory in the Indiana State Reformatory at Jeffersonville and found only a few men making brooms. If the laws were complied with the demand would keep them busy for these institutions alone".

Amos Butler, of the State Board of Charities said that in case an institution violated the laws the state board of accounts would refuse to approve the accounts.

CARDIFF, WALES—150 members of one family gathered here to celebrate the eightieth birthday of the founders, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Burn. Ages ranged from 62, the eldest son, to four months, the youngest great-granddaughter. They hired a public hall for the reception, banquet and dance.

Gruesome Paving.
Tombstones have been employed in Nottinghamshire, Derbyshire, Lincolnshire and Lancashire, England, for purposes of paving, and some years ago the inhabitants of the Vale of Belvoir raised a vehement protest against such stones being used as a pathway leading to the parish church. The local authorities, however, sought to justify the measure on the ground that there were plenty of old gravestones on hand, which, if used, might result in a saving of taxes.

Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Chaney and family entertained a few friends Tuesday with an elegant fried chicken dinner, in honor of F. D. Elliot, of Chicago, their house guest. Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Remington, of Connersville were among the guests.

Members of the O. N. T. club were delightfully entertained last evening at the home of Mrs. Sarah Giffin in North Morgan street with a delicious four course chicken dinner. The table was beautifully decorated with garden flowers. Besides the members present the following guests attended: George Havens and daughter Myrta, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Gordon, Samuel Young, Robert Mansfield, William Sexton, Lon Havens, Mrs. C. H. Gilbert, Mrs. Gertrude Conde and Miss Bertha Hungerford, of Indianapolis.

One hundred and twenty-five guests attended the annual reunion of the Norris family held yesterday in the city park. At noon a bountiful pitch-in dinner was served and the afternoon was enjoyed with a literary program consisting of talks music and readings. Judge Lairy of the supreme court of Indianapolis, who was present, gave a very interesting talk, which was followed by other short talks by Will Norris of Delphi, Ind. and Mrs. Estell Ochiltree of Connersville. William Ochiltree of Connersville delighted the audience with a number of pantomims which were well received. Another feature of the afternoon was the baseball game given between the "fats" and the "leans", in which the "fats" were victors. Judge Lairy was umpire.

Among those present from out-of-town were Mr. and Mrs. Will Norris of Delphi, Judge and Mrs. M. B. Lairy of Indianapolis, Mrs. Laura Orwin of Indianapolis, C. M. Norris and son Earnest of Des Moines, Ia., Robert Norris of Anderson, Mrs. Kate Bryant of Logansport, Mrs. Will Ochiltree and Mr. and Mrs. William Ochiltree of Connersville, Ind.

During the business session the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: president, Mrs. Will Ochiltree of Connersville; secretary, Miss Ramona Norris of Carthage; treasurer, Paul Parrish. The annual affair will be held at Roberts Park in Connersville next year.

"Fare!" The passenger gave no heed. "Fare, please!" Still the passenger was oblivious. "By the ejaculatory term 'Fare!'" said the conductor. "I imply no reference to the state of the weather, the complexion of the admirable blonde you observe in the contiguous seat, nor even to the quality of the service vouchsafed by this philanthropic corporation. I merely allude, in a manner perhaps lacking in delicacy, but not in conciseness, to the monetary obligation set up by your presence in this car, and suggest that you liquidate." At this point the passenger emerged from his trance.—San Francisco Argonaut.

Wonder

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

WONDER is able to make big men and women of us all. For when we most sincerely feel that we are small and unimportant, that moment we are in reality biggest and greatest. Look into the Heavens at night. Wonder at its magnificence. Take note of the worlds in Stars as they wink and blink among themselves millions of miles away. Wonder at them and how heedless they seem of you—so small, so tiny—so infinitesimal!
Wonder—but as you Wonder, THINK.
Look about you—no matter where you may be. There are always things to Wonder at. Every spot of Nature is a Wonder Garden. Every Seed and Tree and Rock and Breathing Life in Nature transformed through the Mind and Effort of Man, is but the further arranging of chances for Wonderment.
Wonder—but as you Wonder, THINK.
As you go to your Bed tonight, before closing your eyes in Sleep, Wonder at it all—Sleep, that for the time obliterates conscious Life and takes you away from activity and turmoil, but to return you again in safety recharged with Strength and Will. Wonder at the miracle of Sleep.
Wonder—but as you Wonder, THINK.
Let the power of Wonder that is so free to you correct your distorted viewpoints. Let it lift and brace you. Let it abolish the false Conceit within you. Let it convince you of your humanness and lead you through your work in this world, contented with your lot—an Uncomplainer.

Food for the Family.

A bran bread which is wholesome and easily made is a recipe which should be found in all households. The following is a good one:

Bran Bread.

Take one pint each of flour and bran, one cupful of buttermilk, or sweet milk will do, a teaspoonful of soda, a half teaspoonful of salt, three tablespoonfuls of molasses. Mix and bake one hour to one hour and a quarter.

Graham Popovers.

Take one cupful each of graham flour and white flour, one cupful each of milk and water, a teaspoonful of sugar and a half teaspoonful of salt. Beat the flour and the milk together then add the water and other ingredients, beat well with an egg beater, pour into hot gem pans and bake in a hot oven. These are light as a feather.

Prune Bread.

Wash a cupful of prunes and soak over night in water to cover. In the morning remove the pits and chop the prunes, add one quart of flour, one pint of graham flour, a teaspoonful of salt, a tablespoonful of sugar, one yeast cake dissolved in lukewarm water and enough warm milk to make a soft dough. Allow it to rise, stir briskly, put into a well buttered bread pan. Let rise again and bake in a moderate oven. This is a very healthful bread and one the children like.

Eggs in Baskets With Bacon.

Separate the whites and yolks of as many eggs as desired, being careful not to break the yolks. Beat the whites until stiff enough to stand. Turn into a buttered baking dish, make small depressions for the yolks and carefully drop them in. Dot with butter, sprinkle with salt and bake a medium brown. Serve garnished with crisp, fried bacon.

Cabbage and Apple Salad.

Chop together one cabbage head, four tart apples, season well with salt and cayenne and mix with a good mayonnaise dressing. Serve at once.

Thousand Island Dressing.

Take one cupful of mayonnaise dressing, one cupful of whipped cream, one-half cupful of chili sauce or catsup, two tablespoonfuls of minced red pepper, one tablespoonful of chopped cucumber, one tablespoonful of Worcestershire sauce. Mix in the order given and serve at once.

Pecan Pralines.

Boil together one pound of brown sugar, one tablespoonful of butter, and four tablespoonfuls of water; when the mixture begins to boil add one-half pound of pecans, when it begins to bubble, remove from the heat and drop by spoonfuls on buttered dish or marble slab. Stir constantly while cooking.

THE EARS

SEVERAL women have asked how to overcome protruding ears in half grown children, and several how to overcome such defects in themselves. One correspondent—in this case a man—wrote—

"The boys called me 'bunny' and 'rabbit' at school, my ears stuck out so, and because one tooth was out beyond the others. A dentist pulled this and inserted a smaller crown, in proper alignment. But the ears still stand out and make any face stupid looking, and homely. I am thirty years old now, and think it is too late to have my ears placed properly. Can you advise me, however?"

The ears are always more or less flexible, and if, through carelessness or ignorance on the part of the mother the baby's ears are allowed to protrude, the grown person can only do what the mother should have done. That is, bind the ears close to the head, and let them stay so all night.

URGES NEW POLICY TO PROTECT TREES

C. L. Pack Says 81,000,000 Acres of Waste Land Could be Made to Grow Forests

SPEAKS AT A CONFERENCE

Pulp Manufacturers and Others Should Guard Forests And Insist Upon Fire Protection

New London, N. H., Aug. 25—Warning the business interests, particularly the newspaper publishers, that there must be action at once for better fire protection—$1,000,000 a year for guarding forests against the $30,000,000 a year fire loss—Charles Lathrop Pack, president of the American Forestry Association, spoke here today at a conference of foresters, timberland owners, paper pulp men and lumbermen. Pack also urged a two million a year appropriation for the acquisition of forest land by the government for the purpose of growing timber to replace our rapidly disappearing supplies.

The conference is being conducted by the Society for the Protection of New Hampshire Forests. Some of the speakers on the day program are George W. Sisson, Jr., president of the American Pulp and Paper Association; R. S. Kellogg, secretary of the American News Print Service; Col. Henry S. Graves, former chief forester of the U. S.; Elwood Wilson, forester of the L'Esperance Paper Co., of Grand Mere, Quebec.

Forests are not only being wiped out by destructive conflagrations as well as by numerous small fires, but these fires also prevent the natural restoration of hundreds of thousands of acres of cut over lands" said Pack. "Our direct loss in timber by these fires is $30,000,000 a year. Altogether there are 315,000,000 acres of state and privately owned forest land in the protection of which the Government should co-operate. At present half of this vast area is wholly unprotected and protection for the other half is entirely inadequate. If these lands are kept productive there must be tremendous expansion in our present fire protection activities by the federal government, the states and private owners. Legislation authorizing the Government to spend a million dollars annually in co-operation with the states is immediately essential.

"Close estimates show 81,000,000 acres of waste forest land on which there is no growth of any value. This area, greater than the combined forest area of Germany, Denmark, Holland, Belgium, France, Switzerland, Spain and Portugal should be made under proper management, to produce forests.

"Our standing timber is now being cut or destroyed by fire, disease and insects four times as fast as new timber is being grown. In the case of saw timber alone, the destruction is more than 5 times the growth of such material. What this means to the nations in the way of higher prices of forest products is apparent.

"Adequate fire protection of our forests will solve 75% of the difficulties now confronting us in attempting to keep our forest lands productive.

"At present about one fifth of the forest land of the country is publicly owned, mainly by the Federal Government. This ownership should be increased to one half of the timber growing land of the United States well distributed throughout the principal forest regions."

SHORTAGE CAUSES CONCERN

Rushville People Unable to Fill Coal Bins For The Winter

The continued coal shortage is the cause of considerable concern and even alarm in this city. During the last few years, the majority of householders have been laying in their winter's supply during the summer months and many placed their orders early in the summer. However the shortage has been so acute that dealers have been unable to fill orders which have been on the books for months.

While some Indiana coal is used in this city the majority of household consumers prefer eastern coal. Comparatively few shipments have been received here and the cars which have arrived are quickly unloaded. Dealers have found it impossible to keep a supply in their yards for emergency purposes.

DEDICATE LONGEST SCENIC HIGHWAY

Park-to-Park Highway is 4,500 Miles Long, Connects 11 National Parks And Traverses 9 States

OPENS A PUBLICITY TOUR.

Ultimate Object is to Make Easily Available to the People America's Play-grounds

Denver, Colo., Aug. 25—The world's longest continuous auto scenic highway—4,500 miles—connecting eleven national parks and traversing nine western states, was dedicated here today to all America by Stephen T. Mather, director of the National Park Service, and officials of the National Park-to-Park Highway Association.

The simple ceremonies consisted of "a world challenge to compete with the enchanting wonder contained in the federal recreational areas," which lure the traveler to snow-capped heights. The dedication here was marked with the opening of a publicity tour by federal, state and city officials, including Director Mather.

The days of old prairie schooner travel were wiped out forever in the caravan of 25 automobiles that carried the official party in comfort on the circle swing that will require 60 days to complete. It also heralded a new era in which every man, woman and child in the country is given a share in the hospitality of the great West.

The park-to-park highway, laid out by A. L. Westgard, scout for the American Automobile Association, reaches the Rocky Mountain National Park in Colorado, Yellowstone Park in Wyoming, Glacier Park in Montana, Mount Rainier Park in Washington, Crater Lake Park, Oregon; Lassen Volcanic Park, Yosemite, General Grant and Roosevelt Parks in California, the Grand Canyon in Arizona, and Mesa Verde Park in southwestern Colorado.

The ultimate object of the National Park-to-Park Highway association is to prevail upon Congress to furnish a hard-surfaced boulevard making easily available to the people America's playground.

MANY COUNTIES SEEK NEW MEMBERS

Drives are Opened by Several Farmers' Associations in Drive for $150,000 Goal

PRES. BROWN IS IN THE WEST.

Is Studying Co-operative Marketing System Used by Fruit and Raisin Growers

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 25—Both state and national activities featured in the work of the officers of the Indiana Federation of Farmers' Associations during the last week, while eight of the counties affiliated with the state organization started membership drives in the campaign for 150,000 members. Fifteen additional counties have been booked for membership drives to be conducted under the uniform plan system which brings the total up to thirty-two for the fall and summer months. Reports received from the eight counties starting their drives during the last week were highly encouraging to the officers of the Federation, and it has been estimated that if the other units do correspondingly as well the 150,000 goal will have been attained before the second annual convention to be held November 16.

The additional counties to join in the membership drives with their starting dates are as follows: Sept. 13, Clark, Gibson, Johnson, Vermillion, Morgan, Franklin and Knox; Sept. 20, Perry; Sept. 27, Fulton; Oct. 4, Clinton and Green; Oct. 11, Marion and Decatur; Oct. 18, Vigo and Pike. The only two counties in the state, not organized or booked for membership drives to become affiliated, are Elkhart and Brown counties. State Organizer H. C. Reid expects to go into these two counties in the near future and close contracts for membership drives in order that the state will be 100 per cent organized before convention time.

John G. Brown, president of the Indiana farmers, is in the West with a party of mid-west and eastern state representatives to study the co-operating marketing system so successfully used by fruit, nut, and raisin growers in California. Farmers of the grain sections hope to adopt some of the principles used in the Golden Gate state in the marketing of staple farm crops if a uniform system can be worked out. There is an urgent demand among farm leaders to cut down selling expenses and ruinous fluctuations and a general desire to work out a co-operative marketing system. J. R. Howard, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, is a strong advocate of a new system which would make it possible for the farmers to control the entire grain crop of the United States rather than the speculators, and is appointing a committee of seventeen drawn from the grain producing states to develop such a plan of distribution.

President Brown attended the quarterly meeting of the executive committee of the American Farm Bureau Federation held at Denver while enroute to the coast, and another meeting of the wool growers held at Salt Lake City where pooling and storage problems were discussed. The two outstanding developments at the meeting of the national executive committee were decisions to attempt to make sure that any revisions of national taxation laws, as contemplated, does not shift a greater burden from industrial interests to the public, and the creation of a traffic department. Both are of vital interest to thousands of farmers who are members of state organizations.

A schedule has been received at headquarters of proposed increased live stock commission rates for selling live stock in the Chicago yards. Most of these figures approximate 25 to 30 percent increase, but it is understood that they will be disallowed by E. T. Meredith, Secretary of Agriculture, through war-time powers in the control of foodstuffs which he still retains.

CEMENT COMPANY IS SEEKING A LOCATION

Wishes Site in Indiana Where Proper Materials And Transportation Facilities are Adequate

WOULD ADD MUCH WEALTH

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 25—Representatives of a large cement company which operates plants in Illinois and Michigan, have consulted Dr. W. N. Logan, state geologist under the state department of conservation, with reference to a suitable location for establishing a plant in Indiana.

According to Dr. Logan the company wishes a site where the proper materials are available and where transportation facilities and the water supply are adequate.

Indiana has an unlimited quantity of good cement materials and fuel resources are such as to make the state a favorable place for such an industrial plant, the state geologist says. The location of such a plant would bring from a half to a million dollars additional capital to Indiana.

THE RETURN TO NORMAL

The following is a letter we received and we think it worth while publishing.

"Throughout the country people are waiting for things to return to normal. Many a retail dealer is sitting with depleted stocks, waiting for a return to normal prices before restocking. THIS IS THE GREAT ILLUSION. Society is in a constant state of FLUX. The normal of yesterday is no longer the normal of today. To return to the normal of yesterday would be to discard the electric light for the coal oil lamp, or back of that to the tallow candle, or even to the burning rush stuck in a clink in the wall. PRICES will never return to normal. What we think of as a normal has ceased to be and will never be again. We are on a new level.

For years a dollar a bushel was the normal price of wheat, but it will never be again. You may not know it, but the invention of the automobile added fifty cents to the cost of production of every bushel of wheat, and it is a permanent addition. It opened a new vista to the farmers eyes, and also set a new standard wage for labor. The assassin's bullet at Sarajevo which set the world ablaze with war added another fifty cents to the cost of wheat which will never come off. Henceforth the normal price of wheat will be not less than two dollars a bushel. A dollar a bushel added to the price of wheat has increased the normal value of land, and so there will never again be a pre-war normal price of lumber.

No retail lumber dealer need apologize for the price of his product. He can look his farmer customer straight in the eye, and tell him that low priced lumber will come again with low priced land, low priced wheat, $1 a day labor, which will be when the world returns to the ways of its forefathers. It will be when the farmer and his family go back to the simple life, the life of homespun clothes, of drudgery for a bare living; when labor goes back to a twelve hour day, working for a mere existence; when the world puts off silk and puts on cotton. In fact it will never be again, and the thinking man does not want it to return again. The standard of living has been raised and with it has come the inevitable cost.

Today it costs more to put the log in the mill pond than it did ten years ago to put the finished product on the car. This is not a temporary condition, it has come to stay. We have skimmed the cream off our lumber supply. There is timber in the country to supply our needs for many years to come, but always at increased cost. We have cut and shipped the easily accessible trees. Each year we must reach further, build more railroads, increase our logging costs, to get production. We ship today from Washington to aine. TRANSPORTATION ALONE HAS KILLED THE OLD NORMAL PRICE. After August 26th a new normal will have been established, only to fall before some other onslaught of progress or change.

The retail lumber dealer who is waiting for normal prices to resume his business WILL NEVER RESUME. The wise man is plugging away at the game every day. He educates his trade to the conditions that exist and gets the business. The community which holds back its improvements for lower prices falls hopelessly behind. It will be the back number or the dead town of tomorrow. THE MAN WHO WAITS IS THE MAN WHO NEVER HAS AND NEVER LIVES. This fall is the time to sell lumber, not next spring or next summer. Prices will fluctuate at times, of course, but the feat of a great catastrophic decline in lumber prices is groundless. The dealer who lets his trade fall away without making an effort to encourage it, is following a will o' the wisp. He loses that profit to which service legitimately entitles him and he helps to make a deserted village of his community.

OIL COMPANIES PLAN FOR FUTURE

View Business of Mexican Oil is Proposition Which Will Pay Dividends For Many Years

159 NEW WELLS IN THE MAKING

In Past 2 Months Two of Biggest Producers in Mexico Have Been Drilled—100,000 Bbls. Daily

By RALPH H. TURNER.
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

City of Mexico, July 24—(By Mail)—American and British oil companies in Mexico are building today for the future. More and more are they beginning to view the business of Mexican oil as a proposition which is going to pay dividends for a great many years.

This tendency is plainly evident despite the fact that a settlement of juridical questions with the Mexican government is still pending.

It is evident from the projected construction of new refineries, terminals and storage facilities; it is rebated in the new era of "welfare" work—the building of club houses, residences and schools for the companies' employees and their families; it gains further support by the amount of new development work which is going forward in the fields.

For instance, reliable information received by the United Press shows that on June 15 there were 159 new wells in the making, either drilling had been started or the wells were "rigging up" preparatory to drilling. A large number of these wells were "wildcats"—wells being drilled in unproved territory. Altogether, they testified to a great deal of new activity.

As drilling increases, it must be accompanied by enlarged facilities for handling the oil.

The two principal companies representing British interests, the Corona Petroleum Company and El Aguila, have concluded a tank construction program which will provide storage capacity for about seven million barrels of oil. The Corona company already has begun work in the building of ninety 55,000 barrel steel tanks. The Continental Mexican Oil Company, representing American capital, has let contracts for twelve 55,000-barrel tanks.

As a place to make one's home, Tampico is no garden spot, so if the foreign oil companies are not to retain the services of their American employees, they must make life as attractive as possible.

The Transcontinental Company, a subsidiary of Standard Oil, soon will begin construction of a modern clubhouse, with tennis courts, library, dance hall and all the other requisites of a well-appointed club. Other companies have planned similar action, while the Corona company, a British concern, is to construct a complete community at a cost of several million dollars. The program includes a new refinery, an office building, clubhouse, school building, merchandising stores and homes for the employees. Almost all of the companies are erecting residences and several have let contracts for new office buildings.

And while Tampico is enjoying a building boom, the oil production grows apace and the boys out in the fields continue "bringing in the wells". In the past month two of the biggest producers in Mexico have been drilled. Both are estimated at 100,000 barrels daily, one of the gushers spouting a stream of black liquid wealth high into the air above the top of the derrick.

With the Mexican soil hurling its riches to the surface, the prospector spurs himself to greater efforts. Up in the northwestern corner of the Republic, hundreds of miles from Tampico, a party of geologists is exploring the state of Sonora. These "rock hounds", as they are known in the petroleum vernacular, represent E. W. Marland of Ponca City, Okla., who has obtained a concession to search for oil in eight million acres of national lands. Nearer to Tampico in the country between Monterey and Victoria, oil scouts declare they have found evidences of the coveted wealth. This field, geologists say, will not produce the big gushers of the northern districts, but will yield oil of a lighter and more valuable quality.

Oil, in Mexico, is being treated as a life-long proposition.

Is Your Blood Starving For Want of Iron?

Without Plenty of Iron In Your Blood You Don't Get the Strength and Nourishment Out of the Food You Eat

When over-work, lack of sleep, improper food and impure air sap the iron from your blood and make you feel weak, nervous, irritable and out-of-sorts, it is important that you should at once put more iron into your blood. Without iron the blood loses the power to change food into living tissue and therefore nothing that you eat does you the proper amount of good because you don't get the full strength out of it. Your food merely passes through your system like corn through a mill with the rollers so wide apart that the mill can't grind. Because of this steady starvation of the blood and nerves people often become weakened, tired-out, nervous and rundown and frequently develop all sorts of symptoms. But the moment organic iron—Nuxated Iron—is supplied a multitude of dangerous symptoms disappear in most cases, the flesh becomes firmer, the muscles get back their strength and the roses of health bloom in cheeks that were pale and sickly looking.

No matter what other so-called remedies you may have tried, if you are not strong, vigorous, hearty and well, you owe it to yourself to make the following test: See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next, take two five-grain tablets of ordinary Nuxated Iron three times per day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again and see for yourself how much you have gained. You can obtain Nuxated Iron from your druggist on the distinct understanding that if you are not fully satisfied your money will be refunded.

CITY OWES GROWTH

TO MAN'S VISION

Population of Wood River, Ill., is 3,476 or a Gain of 4,038 Percent Since 1910

AT THAT TIME HAD ONLY 84

Young Man Takes Over Management of Refinery and Today Wood River is a Booming Town

(By United Press.)

Wood River, Ill., August 25—The growth of Wood River—America's magic city—is due to the keen vision of an ambitious young man inspired to a big future through the advice of his employer.

That is the story they tell at the Standard Oil Company's refinery here. Its an old story to inhabitants of this industrial and home city, but it is of especial interest now that the federal census of 1920 has been announced giving Wood River a population of 3,476, or a gain of 4,038 percent since 1910, when there were only 84 souls within its borders.

Wood River's population gain has far outstripped that of any other city or town so far announced since the 1920 count was made.

The story goes that the manager of the general office of the Standard Oil Company, located near Chicago, called in a typical young American business man employee and said:

"I've got a job with a future for you. The opportunity for advancement is unlimited if you will only put your shoulder to the wheel. It will be a hard grind, but you can do it."

"We are building a refinery at a townsite over near St. Louis and I want you to go down there to run things. When the refinery is completed I am positive the town will grow. There is nobody there now, and it will be a lonesome place to live."

"Now go to it. You can make out of it what you will. You must leave tonight. O' yes the place is called Wood River."

The young chap went home to tell his wife—just a slip of a girl. They got out their maps and began a search for Wood River. But all in vain. Nowhere on any available map of Illinois was there to be found even a dot market Wood River.

At any rate, the young couple bought tickets for St. Louis and on arriving in the Missouri city made inquiry regarding their new home-site. Nobody had heard of the place, although a railroad official admitted having heard of a refinery the Standard was erecting out near Alton, Illinois. More questions at the interurban station finally drew reply that a local car made a stop at a place called Wood River.

Detraining at the spot, the young couple found the town did not even boast of a railroad station, although two important trunk lines between Chicago and St. Louis passed through. The only sign of habitation was a house or so where lived the workmen building the refinery.

The Chicago boy shuddered. His wife burst into tears. She was for returning at once. The husband gritted his teeth, however, and recalled what his boss had told him about the future of the town and his own opportunities. So they stuck to their jobs. In a few weeks they had a comfortable home built, and with the completion of the refinery more people moved in. Most of them, however preferred to live in Alton, half a dozen miles away, or St. Louis, or its Illinois suburban places, less than an hour from Wood River.

Smith, lets call the young manager was quick to see that, although the refinery work was attracting inhabitants, there was no life in the town for families to enjoy, nor any place to go when the day's work was done. So he wrote his boss that he'd need capital to provide a moving picture show, a drug store, grocery and maybe a library. The money was quickly forthcoming, with the result that when workmen saw they could have enjoyments in Wood River without paying carfare to adjacent towns, they decided to buy property and build homes. So Smith set aside some of his company's money to loan workmen for building homes.

Wood River began to grow. That was in 1910. And when the census was taken that year and when every single person was counted, the new town's population amounted to only 84. But the next year it boasted 75 houses and a few stores had begun to spring up by private enterprise. And the Smiths—husband and wife were wrapped up in the town.

Today Wood River is a booming town with all city improvements. Its streets are lined with modern homes, substantially built. The railroads now stop at the city's neat and ample station and the town's name is printed in all the roads' time tables. Nearly everybody in Wood River owns his own home. There are no negroes in the town. A few work in the plants of the town, but reside elsewhere.

And industry has grown. Besides the original Standard Oil Refineries a tannery of the International Shoe Co., and other plants, the payrolls of which now total more than $1,100,000 monthly.

Nobody locks his door. Thievery is almost unknown. It is just a big community where everybody knows everybody else, and Wood Riverans don't know where the town's growth will stop. Its natural advantages on the Mississippi river, close to cheap fuel and water power, and its location in the St. Louis metropolitan district, all presage wonderful future development.

And the Smiths, leaders in social and industrial development, feel they own the place. And they ought to: they made it.

Seats will be on sale for the big home talent K. of P. Minstrels Saturday, August 28 at Hargrove & Mullin's drug store at 9:00 A. M. Limit, 10 tickets to person. 75c and $1.00 plus war tax. 13618

THE women should certainly be thankful for the automobile. It has given them a chance to see a lot more of their husbands.

II

But it has done a great deal more than that.

It has brought people closer together, given them new interests, swept away old prejudices.

What affects one man now generally affects a good many of his neighbors in the same way. And they have a better chance to get together and talk things over.

III

It's had its effect on the tire business.

When automobiles were new people were willing to buy any kind of a tire. Now they're beginning to insist on knowing what they are getting.

And the more they insist, the better it will be for us.

IV

We want our customers to know what they are getting.

That's why we represent U. S. Tires—so there will be no doubt about it.

Whatever the size of your car, you know that the U. S. Tire you put on it is the best kind of tire its makers know how to make.

U. S. Tires are guaranteed for life, without any limitation of mileage.

That ought to mean something to the man who has thought about tires.

INDIANA FARES ARE UNCHANGED

New Railroad Rates, With 20 Per Cent Increase, Apply Only to Tickets Outside State.

IS CONTRARY TO IMPRESSIONS

Rushville People Thought Local Rates Would Be Raised—Freight and Pullman Rates Increased

A general misunderstanding seems to prevail among people of the state, according to L. C. Snodgrass, passenger agent here for the C. I. & W. and Pennsylvania railroads, in regards to the 20 per cent increase on passenger fares that go into effect tomorrow on all steam lines in this state.

The new increase calls for a 20 per cent addition to all tickets termed as interstate tickets, but on intrastate tickets the fares do not advance, and Rushville people are more concerned with the intrastate travel than for travel beyond the state.

The general impression has been that the fares would advance on all tickets, and that the rate between here and Indianapolis would advance from $1.29 to $1.44, or a 20 per cent increase. Fares within the state are unchanged, while from Indiana to another state, the 20 per cent increase is added.

The confusion probably arose when recently 23 electric lines in Indiana applied for a 20 per cent increase, stating that they wanted to be put on an equal with the steam lines. In case their increase is granted to apply within the state, the steam lines will offer cheaper transportation in Indiana between local points.

The new rates which are effective tomorrow will affect Rushville as follows: to Cincinnati the fare will be $2.20, the rate formerly being $2.66; to St. Louis the new rate will be $11.19, the old rate being $9.32; to Chicago, the new rate will be $8.68, the old rate being $7.24. All of these fares include the 8 per cent war tax.

Increased rates are also in effect tomorrow and are on the same basis as the passenger increases, applying to interstate business, and not affecting the rates within Indiana.

The new freight rates are advanced from 33 to 40 per cent tomorrow on all shipments outside of the state, depending upon the distance, and the

MANY REPUBLICANS AT DISTRICT RALLY

Automobiles Leave During Morning For Connersville to Attend Campaign Opening

THOUSAND FROM THIS COUNTY

Rush county republicans began to go early today to Connersville for the sixth district republican rally, which marked the opening of the campaign in this section of the state. Senator James E. Watson of this city was scheduled to make the principal address at the close of the program.

Many decorated automobiles left here during the morning, covered with flags and placards bearing campaign slogans. It was estimated that close to a thousand Rush county republicans were at the rally.

In connection with the announcement yesterday that Harry Hoover of Richmond, the only Indiana civil war veteran who was at Ford's theater in Washington the night Lincoln was assassinated, would make the opening address this morning, John Mousner of this city this morning stated that although he was not in Washington the night of the assassination, he was there early the next morning. He stated that his company which was in camp near Washington, made a hurried trip to the capital when news of the assassination was received, and was on guard at sunrise the next morning to prevent disorder which was expected after the tragedy.

SAYS WIFE ABANDONED HIM

Thomas F. Ball Files Suit Against Edna M. Ball For Divorce

Thomas F. Ball this morning filed suit for divorce from Edna M. Ball alleging cruel and inhuman treatment, in that she abandoned him without cause, stating that she would rather be single, according to the complaint. Mr. Ball states that for the last two years he has been a resident of Posey and Ripley townships and that they were married in January 1915 and separated in July of this year, when she is alleged to have abandoned him. The defendant is now supposed to be a resident of Indianapolis. The complaint says further that before their separation she charged him with being intimate with other women, which he says is untrue.

SEVERELY INJURED WHEN A MULE BOLTS

Miss Dove Meredith is Hurt in Accident While Visiting in Mountains in Alabama

IS CAUGHT UNDER A BUGGY

Miss Dove Meredith of this city, who has been visiting her brother-in-law, Orville Herkless at Bridgeport, Alabama, suffered painful injuries in an accident last week, according to word which has just been received here by relatives.

Miss Meredith and Mrs. Miles Standish, who has been hostess to the Rushville party for several days at her home on a mountain in the Tennessee river, were on their way to the ferry in a buggy drawn by a white mule, when the animal suddenly bolted, ran up the side of a cliff and upset the buggy. Miss Meredith and Mrs. Standish were caught under the vehicle and Miss Meredith's shoulder was very severely hurt. The occupants of the buggy would have been seriously if not fatally injured if the mule had not lain quietly until help arrived. A man who was riding ahead of them lifted the buggy off the two women.

Miss Meredith's sister, Miss Laura Meredith, and niece, Miss Margaret Herkless, are with her, and they are expected home the latter part of this week or the first of next week.

WHEAT PLOWING IN PROGRESS IN COUNTY

Early Indications Are That The Acreage Will Be Exceptionally Large This Year

CORN YIELD WILL BE BIG.

A large acreage in Rush county has been broken for wheat and plowing is in progress in many sections following the recent rains. The ground is in such condition that it turns easily and the farmers are plowing as many fields as possible. Much oats and clover ground will be sown, to wheat this fall.

The small crop this year will result in a large acreage. Some farmers predicted that the failure this summer would cause a smaller acreage, but this does not seem to be the case. Farmers generally expect the price of wheat to remain high for another year or two.

The corn crop will be one of the largest in the history of the county, unless it is nipped by early frosts. Many fields were planted late in the spring and will not mature before the first or tenth of October. The cool weather during the last week has retarded growth but farmers are confident that the mature will be saved if warmer weather returns and there is no frost until after the tenth of October.

NO PRAYER MEETING

There will be no prayer meeting at the First United Presbyterian church on Thursday evening of this week.

WATSON SPEAKS TO HARDING CLUB

Delivers Principal Address at Opening of Presidential Campaign in Indianapolis

REITERATES STAND ON PEACE.

Declares Technical State of War Can Be Removed Quickest by Adopting Resolution

Senator James E. Watson delivered the principal address at the opening of the presidential campaign in Indianapolis, last night, by the Harding club. The meeting was held at the Marion Club and was regarded as a certain-raiser for the visit of Indiana republicans at Marion, O., Saturday.

Warren T. McCray, republican nominee for governor, spoke briefly before Senator Watson was introduced by Elias J. Jacoby, president of the Indianapolis Harding club. The Indianapolis Star this morning reports Senator Watson's speech in part as follows:

Senator Watson dwelt strongly on Democratic extravagances, struck at Socialism said that the Democratic administration has failed to deal with the Mexican problem, declared that there never would have been a Mexican problem so far as this country was concerned if a Roosevelt had been in the White House; that a Republican national administration will deal with Mexico without going to war, and said that the new women voters will vote against Democratic prices of sugar. He then discussed the League of Nations issue, advocating the reservations which he believes the Senate ought to have incorporated.

Senator Watson said that the war long ago ended and that peace long ago was restored, and that we remain only technically at war. He said that this technical state of war could be removed quickest by the adoption by Congress of a simple resolution, declaring that a state of peace exists and without any further negotiations with Germany.

"I maintain," said Senator Watson, "that as a matter of law and fact we are at peace with Germany, first, because of the terms of the armistice of November 11, 1918; second, because of the actual ceasing of hostilities; third, because of the utter extinction of the government against which we made our declaration; and fourth, because of the negotiations by us, and our associates in the war with Germany, and the ratification by our associates and Germany, of a treaty of peace which specifically provided for the termination of hostilities and a resumption of diplomatic relations, which treaty is now in force and observed everywhere in the world, and has in fact, under international law, brought peace to the whole world, including ourselves.

"If we were seeking money or territory or making other exactions upon Germany by way of reparation or if she were making demands or claims upon us, then it would be necessary to have representatives appointed to formulate terms of peace, but such is not the case. Neither nation wants anything from the other; it is not necessary for Germany to repeal any declaration of war because she never made any, and all we need to do to end this technical state of war is to pass a resolution saying that this state of war that exists between the United States and Germany no longer exists, because the facts upon which it was predicated have ceased to be."

The senator strongly urged 'Americanizing reservation for the League of Nations covenant'. He said that the Senate did not try to ditch the league covenant, but that it was urged that American interests and American ideas be safeguarded and preserved.

The senator added that the adoption of such a resolution will remove the technical state of war and that no further negotiations with Germany are required.

WOMEN ELIGIBLE TO JURY SERVICE

May be Called to Serve on Circuit Court, City Court or Justice of Peace Juries

VOTE BRINGS NEW DUTIES

Only Requirement is That They be Freeholders or Householders—May be on Grand Jury

Women on the juries sitting in circuit, city and justice of the peace courts is not one of the impossibilities of the near future when the federal government announces that the suffrage amendment to the constitution is effective, following ratification by Tennessee, the thirty-sixth state.

Indiana women, upon becoming voters, will automatically assume new duties, not the least of which will be jury service, in cases where they are freeholders or householders.

The provision of the Indiana law laying down the qualifications for jury service says that "To be qualified for jury service a person must be a resident voter of the county and a freeholder or householder."

It is noted that the statute says "person" not man and that it uses the term "resident voter of the county" in no restricted sense, indicating that the voter may be male or female. There seems to be no room for question about the matter and women sitting on a jury in the circuit court may be no uncommon sight in the very near future.

They are subject to call for jury service in any court and are just as liable to have their initial experience in Squire J. P. Stech's court as in the court of Judge Sparks. Furthermore, they may be called, on by the chief of police to sit on the jury in city court.

It is not improbable that women may be called on to serve as jurors of the circuit court during the September term, although there is no authority for such a statement, but it is not beyond the pale of impossibility. Farmers are generally busy during the fall and jurors are frequently hard to get.

Contrary to the custom in some courts, the jury box from which the names are drawn by the jury commissioners of the Rush circuit court, is filled before the opening of each term of court. In some courts the box is filled with the names of freeholders and householders the first of each year.

The Rush county jury commissioners are Joe Cowing, republican, and Cary Jackson, democrat. Mr. Cowing said today that he had not given the question any thought but that he and the other member would consult with Judge Sparks about the question before filling the jury box for the September term of court, which will open Monday, September 13.

The same situation would obtain with grand jurors as well as petit jurors. Women might be called on to pass on questions under investigation and vote as to whether indictments should be returned.

There is, of course, some humorous speculation as to the sort of experience that will result from women being used for jury service. The general guess is that a jury composed in part of women and in part of men would be much more likely to agree than a jury composed entirely of women. It has been facetiously remarked that there are no twelve women in the world who could get together on the merits of a lawsuit. A favorite prediction is that if a woman ever "hangs" a jury, it will be "hung" for keeps—she will let the court house rot down around her before she will knock under for those who differ with her.

But all jokes aside, it is probable that Rush county will be using women for jurors at a very early date, and no one need worry about their ability for such service. Down in their boots most men know that if they were really seeking justice they would just as soon submit their case to twelve of the representative women of Rush county as to any twelve men. Neither the courts nor any of our other institutions are going to

Brookville Highway Through This City Meets Governor's Approval

Governor Goodrich yesterday afternoon signed three road bills approved by the Indiana state highway commission among them being the Brookville road, running through this city, which has been held up for several weeks on account of the failure of the governor to sign the bill. It was generally understood that the road would also be approved by Governor Goodrich. The other two roads which he signed were the "Adaway" route between Kentland and Hammond and the Jackson way between Wolcott and Montmorenci.

FILES INJUNCTION TO RESTRAIN SEC'Y COLBY

Anti-Suffrage Leaders Bring Suit in Washington to Enjoin Colby From Proclaiming Amendment

WILL HEAR THE ARGUMENTS

(By United Press)

Washington, Aug. 25—The anti-suffrage fight against the nineteenth amendment was transferred to Washington today when a suit to enjoin Secretary of State Colby from proclaiming the amendment, was filed in the district court of Columbia. Justice Siddons, of the district court, was asked to issue a ruling for Secretary of State Colby to show a cause where such an injunction should not be granted.

Siddons stated he would not issue such a rule until arguments have been advanced to show he had jurisdiction. Charles Fairchild, head of the American Constitutional league, who entered the plea, said he would prepare such arguments late today or tomorrow.

Meanwhile there is no obstacle in the way of Colby's promulgating the suffrage amendment which he expects to do as soon as the Tennessee ratification has been received by him. The certification is now in the mails.

Fairchild asked for an injunction on the ground that the Tennessee legislature, in ratifying the amendment violated the state constitutional provision; that the election of the legislature must intervene between the time an amendment is submitted and the time it is ratified.

NORMAL PRODUCTION EXPECTED THIS WEEK

Indiana Miners Agree Upon Wage Scale Adopted by Scale Committee—Operations Resumed

GIVEN $1.50 A DAY INCREASE

Terre Haute, Ind., Aug. 25—Production of coal in Indiana was expected to be restored to a normal basis within three or four days following agreement, on the miner's wages by the joint scale committee of the union and operators.

Some of the strikers were returning to work today but district officers of the united mine workers held out little hope for a 100 per cent production before the end of this week.

Retraction to August 16, the new scale gives a daily increase of $1.50 per day to the outside and monthly men whose walkout is combined with that of the day men, which forced idleness, of the entire Indiana coal fields.

These workers demanded an increase of $2.00 a day which would equalize the wage rates agreed on by President Wilson's coal commission. The wage scale decision makes a daily wage of $7.50. A 25 percent boost was given the inside men and boys.

RAILROADS MUST BE REHABILITATED

Gov. Cox in Address Today at Princeton, Declares That Welfare Depends Upon Transportation

GREET'S MINERS AND FARMERS

Says it is His Chief Aim to Explain Senatorial Plot and Reveal Its Working Interests

Princeton, Ind., Aug. 25—No question is more important than the rehabilitation of the railroads, Governor James Cox declared here this afternoon in his speech before a big southern Indiana Democratic rally. With many miners and farmers in his audience, Cox declared that the welfare of both as well as the general public is directly related to the railroad problem.

"During the time of reactionary policy," the governor said, "too many of the railroad systems were part of a political organization and personal exploitation in stock job operations prevented intense interest in public welfare which was essential."

"It now behooves the government and public to help in establishing efficiency both in rolling stock and in operation. Referring to the miners dispute in this section, he said he believed the condition of the railroads was largely responsible for the strike."

He pointed out with the scarcity of cars the miners have been able to work only part of the time and consequently have been forced to demand higher pay, which then in turn caused higher coal prices.

Cox reiterated his charge that "fabulous sums of money have been contributed to the republican campaign by selfish and greedy interests" but withheld detailed information, back of it, which he has promised to give in his Pittsburgh address.

He also attacked the senatorial oligarchy and declared "it is my privilege and it is my chief aim to explain the senatorial plot and to reveal the interests that are a part of it."

RUSSIA MUST REPLY WITHIN 48 HOURS

Europe Will be in Midst of Another War if Anglo-Italian Note is Not Answered Quickly

INVOLVES MANY COUNTRIES

London, Aug. 25—Whether the most of Europe again will be involved in war was expected today to be decided within forty-eight hours. Russia has until Friday evening to reply to the Anglo-Italian note demanding modification of her peace terms to Poland.

Premier Lloyd George has informed the Bolsheviks through Arthur Balfour, Lord President of the council, that unless a satisfactory reply is forthcoming within the limit, Great Britain will change its policy toward Russia.

In the event of resumption of hostilities on a meager scale, Germany may become partially involved since sentiment of the German population bordering on Poland is frankly pro-Russian.

Bolshevik representatives have already applied for passports and expect to leave London on Friday in event the government fails to obey the demands.

As word was awaited from Moscow the Minsk correspondent of the Herald telegraphed that the Polish armistice delegation have definitely rejected the Russian terms and refuse even to discuss disarmament, demobilization or creation of a militia. The next session of the commission was expected to be in the final one, the correspondent said.

JONES' SHIPPING BILL

Business of Foreign Commerce
With Certain Restrictions Cases
as Stir in Japanese Circles

TO AFFECT TRADE RELATIONS

(U. S. Staff Correspondent.)

Tokyo, Aug. 1 (By Mail)—While there is considerable indignation and consternation in shipping circles here as a result of the passage at Washington of the Jones merchant marine bill, at least some Japanese are able to see Japan is not in position to object with any great degree of justice as long as she herself has on her statute books laws which operate against foreigners.

Already there have been a number of protests sent to the government by various organizations of shipping and business men, but no hint has yet been given as to what form the cabinet's protest will take.

In memorials forwarded to the government to provisions of the bill that are most objectionable to Japanese interests are: (1) prohibition of foreign ships from entering American harbors where they engage in competition with American ships by means of rebates, etc.; (2) inclusion of the Philippines with the scope of the coastwise shipping law, thus preventing foreign bottoms from engaging in trade between the Philippines and the United States; (3) abolition of special overland freight rates; and (4) imposition of customs dues against foreign shipping.

Various predictions have been made as to what the effect of the operation of the bill will be on Japanese shipping. Thus it has been claimed that it will effect eighty per cent of the Japanese merchant marine, and that, as a consequence the big Nippon Yusen Kaisha and Osaka Shosen Kaisha lines may be withdrawn from North American trade, being placed on the South American run instead in the hope of classification of the freight. This increase will add from 60 cents to one dollar on the ton for coal, shipped to this city from West Virginia mines.

A new schedule of freight rates to apply for shipments within the state are now being considered before the Public Service Commission of Indiana, in which all railroads are seeking higher rates for shipments within the state.

The Pullman Company, a separate corporation from the railroad companies, will also have new rates in effect tomorrow, which will be equal to a fifty per cent increase, for berths and seats.

MANITOBAN TEACHERS PLEASED WITH SALARY

Board of Arbitration Awarded Teachers Fifty Dollars a Year More Than They Demanded

MINIMUM WAGE IS $1.00

Selkirk, Man., Aug. 25—When the schools here re-open this fall it is believed that this school district will have the most contented lot of teachers in Canada. This happy state of affairs has been brought about by action of a permanent board of arbitration established by the provincial government at the request of the Manitoba Teacher's Federation.

The board has just awarded the teachers fifty dollars a year more than they had demanded of the board of trustees and the minister of education has expressed himself as pleased with the award. The teachers had asked for a minimum salary of $1,050; the trustees stood pat at $1,000 and the board of arbitration, consisting of one representative from the teachers' federation, one from the School Trustees' Association and one from the government, placed the minimum at $1,100.

Deputy Minister of Education Robert Fletcher says the result of the board's decision will be to stabilize the profession and that there will be less shifting around and fewer teachers leaving Manitoba.

Amusements

"The Very Idea" at the Princess

Taylor Holmes will come to the Princess Theatre today in his newest, funniest comedy, "The Very Idea", adapted to the screen from the New York comedy success by William LeBaron.

Those who still are chuckling over the comedian's last appearance, in "Nothing But The Truth" will have in this most recent production an attraction which is utterly different, except that it is fully as hilarious and diverting.

Mr. Holmes will be seen as Gilbert Goodhue, a young husband who has been pampered all his life and who finds, after his marriage, that his wife is of the same sort. The think they both wait above all things is a baby, and doctors have assured Gilbert that Edith is too frail.

There are so many babies in the world, grown up otherwise, that it would seem on first thought an easy matter to get one of them without its being missed. But the story of "The Very Idea" belies this assumption. Edith's brother, an authority of eugenics, comes to the rescue confidently. That is only the start of the trouble. What follows forms one of the most absurdly funny, yet none the less human and appealing comedies ever written.

Oriental Joan of Arc

A horde of fearless Arabian horsemen, charging across the desert on their black steeds, and led by a ship of a girl—an Oriental Joan of Arc—is one of the exciting scenes in "The Virgin of Stamboul" the Universal photodrama to be seen here at the Mystic theatre next Monday and Tuesday. The program is being put on for benefit purposes by the local chapter of the Psi Chi Xi sorority.

The leading role is taken by Priscilla Dean, often called "the wildest of the screen". In this new role of an Oriental spitfire, Miss Dean outdoes by far her former successes.

Her fervor in trying to aid her sweetheart, the courageous young American soldier of fortune who has been captured by a villainous shah, is one of the best portrayals of love sacrifice ever shown on the screen.

The picture was directed by Tod Browning. It contains remarkable scenes of life in Constantinople, including street, bazaar, mosque and harem scenes.

PRISON MADE GOODS

Labour Federation in Convention at Evansville Attacks Policy of Selling "Free Labor" Sales

CITES LAW IN THE CASE

Evansville, Ind., Aug. 25—When the Indiana Federation of Labor met here today the chief problem placed before it was the sale of prison made products in competition with those made by "free-labor".

The State Federation has opposed the open market of such products said Adolph Fritz, secretary-treasurer, of the organization but it will take a more emphatic stand this year than ever before.

He said his information is that in some instances state institutions buy in the open market goods which could be purchased from the state penal institutions. The result Fritz believes is that prisoners who should be working on goods for sale in state institutions, are kept to work on articles to be sold in the open market.

"There is a law in this state," said Fritz, "which requires that as far as possible all state institutions shall use prison made products bought from the penal institutions of the state. Some time ago I visited the broom factory in the Indiana State Reformatory at Jeffersonville and found only a few men making brooms. If the laws were complied with the demand would keep them busy for these institutions alone".

Amos Butler, of the State Board of Charities said that in case an institution violated the laws the state board of accounts would refuse to approve the accounts.

CARDIFF, WALES—150 members of one family gathered here to celebrate the eightieth birthday of the founders, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Burn. Ages ranged from 62, the eldest son, to four months, the youngest great-granddaughter. They hired a public hall for the reception, banquet and dance.

LONDON—Hitchen, Hertfordshire, boasts the ideal official. Declaring that he had very little to do now, local Food Controller Times asked that his salary be reduced from four pounds to two pounds weekly. Granted thankfully.

Gruesome Paving.
Tombstones have been employed in Nottinghamshire, Derbyshire, Lincolnshire and Lancashire, England, for purposes of paving, and some years ago the inhabitants of the Vale of Belvoir raised a vehement protest against such stones being used as a pathway leading to the parish church. The local authorities, however, sought to justify the measure on the ground that there were plenty of old gravestones on hand, which, if used, might result in a saving of taxes.

"Fare!" The passenger gave no heed. "Fare, please!" Still the passenger was oblivious. "By the ejaculatory term 'Fare'!" said the conductor. "I imply no reference to the state of the weather, the complexion of the admirable blonde you observe in the contiguous seat, nor even to the quality of the service vouchsafed by this philanthropic corporation. I merely allude, in a manner perhaps lacking in delicacy, but not in conciseness, to the monetary obligation set up by your presence in this car, and suggest that you liquidate." MASONS OF ORANGE DEDICATE NEW HOME

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

WONDER is able to make big men and women of us all, for when we most sincerely feel that we are small and unimportant, that moment we are in reality biggest and greatest. Look into the Heavens at night. Wonder at its magnificence. Take note of the worlds in Stars as they wink and blink among themselves millions of miles away. Wonder at them and how heedless they seem of you—so small, so tiny—so infinitesimal!
Wonder—but as you Wonder, THINK.
Look about you—no matter where you may be. There are always things to Wonder at. Every spot of Nature is a Wonder Garden. Every Seed and Tree and Rock and Breathing Life in Nature transformed through the Mind and Effort of Man, is but the further arranging of chances for Wonderment.
Wonder—but as you Wonder, THINK.
As you go to your Bed tonight, before closing your eyes in Sleep, Wonder at it all—Sleep, that for the time obliterates conscious Life and takes you away from activity and turmoil, but to return you again in safety recharged with Strength and Will. Wonder at the miracle of Sleep.
Wonder—but as you Wonder, THINK.
Let the power of Wonder that is so free to you correct your distorted viewpoints. Let it lift and brace you. Let it abolish the false Conceit within you. Let it convince you of your humanness and lead you through your work in this world, contented with your lot—an Uncomplainer.

Food for the Family.

A bran bread which is wholesome and easily made is a recipe which should be found in all households. The following is a good one:

Bran Bread.

Take one pint each of flour and bran, one cupful of buttermilk, or sweet milk will do, a teaspoonful of soda, a half teaspoonful of salt, three tablespoonfuls of molasses. Mix and bake one hour to one hour and a quarter.

Graham Popovers.

Take one cupful each of graham flour and white flour, one cupful each of milk and water, a teaspoonful of sugar and a half teaspoonful of salt. Beat the flour and the milk together then add the water and other ingredients, beat well with an egg beater, pour into hot gem pans and bake in a hot oven. These are light as a feather.

Prune Bread.

Wash a cupful of prunes and soak over night in water to cover. In the morning remove the pits and chop the prunes, add one quart of flour, one pint of graham flour, a teaspoonful of salt, a tablespoonful of sugar, one yeast cake dissolved in lukewarm water and enough warm milk to make a soft dough. Allow it to rise, stir briskly, put into a well buttered bread pan. Let rise again and bake in a moderate oven. This is a very healthful bread and one the children like.

Eggs in Baskets With Bacon.

Separate the whites and yolks of as many eggs as desired, being careful not to break the yolks. Beat the whites until stiff enough to stand. Turn into a buttered baking dish, make small depressions for the yolks and carefully drop them in. Dot with butter, sprinkle with salt and bake a medium brown. Serve garnished with crisp, fried bacon.

Cabbage and Apple Salad.

Chop together one cabbage head, four tart apples, season well with salt and cayenne and mix with a good mayonnaise dressing. Serve at once.

Thousand Island Dressing.

Take one cupful of mayonnaise dressing, one cupful of whipped cream, one-half cupful of chili sauce or catsup, two tablespoonfuls of minced red pepper, one tablespoonful of chopped cucumber, one tablespoonful of Worcestershire sauce. Mix in the order given and serve at once.

Pecan Pralines.

Boil together one pound of brown sugar, one tablespoonful of butter, and four tablespoonfuls of water; when the mixture begins to boil add one-half pound of pecans, when it begins to bubble, remove from the heat and drop by spoonfuls on buttered dish or marble slab. Stir constantly while cooking.

THE EARS

SEVERAL women have asked how to overcome protruding ears in half grown children, and several how to overcome such defects in themselves. One correspondent—in this case a man—wrote—
"The boys called me 'bunny' and 'rabbit' at school, my ears stuck out so, and because one tooth was out beyond the others. A dentist pulled this and inserted a smaller crown, in proper alignment. But the ears still stand out and make any face stupid looking, and homely. I am thirty years old now, and think it is too late to have my ears placed properly. Can you advise me, however?

The ears are always more or less flexible, and if, through carelessness or ignorance on the part of the mother the baby's ears are allowed to protrude, the grown person can only do what the mother should have done. That is, bind the ears close to the head, and let them stay so all night.

Senator Harding Addresses Wyandott Co., O., Delegation Today.

(By United Press)

Marion, Ohio, Aug. 25—"The United States would rather cultivate an opportunity in the fundamental soil of the new world than chase phantom amid environments and rivalries of old," Senator Harding declared today in his speech from the front porch to the members of the Wyandott county, Ohio, delegation. "Nobody has thought of America aloofness to the world, but our sphere lies in our national partnership on the western continent and with the Pan-American countries," Harding stated.

"It requires no denationalization to promote these territorial interest and friendships in the frank spirit of contagious cooperation," he added.

SPEAKS AT A CONFERENCE

Pulp Manufacturers and Others Should Guard Forests And Insist Upon Fire Protection

New London, N. H., Aug. 25—Warning the business interests, particularly the newspaper publishers, that there must be action at once for better fire protection—$1,000,000 a year for guarding forests against the $30,000,000 a year fire loss—Charles Lathrop Pack, president of the American Forestry Association, spoke here today at a conference of foresters, timberland owners, paper pulp men and lumbermen. Pack also urged a two million a year appropriation for the acquisition of forest land by the government for the purpose of growing timber to replace our rapidly disappearing supplies.

The conference is being conducted by the Society for the Protection of New Hampshire Forests. Some of the speakers on the day program are George W. Sisson, Jr., president of the American Pulp and Paper Association; R. S. Kellogg, secretary of the American News Print Service; Col. Henry S. Graves, former chief forester of the U. S.; Elwood Wilson, forester of the Laurentide Paper Co., of Grand Mere, Quebec.

Forests are not only being wiped out by destructive conflagrations as well as by numerous small fires, but these fires also prevent the natural restoration of hundreds of thousands of acres of cut over lands" said Pack. "Our direct loss in timber by these fires is $30,000,000 a year. Altogether there are 315,000,000 acres of state and privately owned forest land in the protection of which the Government should co-operate. At present half of this vast area is wholly unprotected and protection for the other half is entirely inadequate. If these lands are kept productive there must be tremendous expansion in our present fire protection activities by the federal government, the states and private owners. Legislation authorizing the Government to spend a million dollars annually in co-operation with the states is immediately essential.

"Close estimates show 81,000,000 acres of waste forest land on which there is no growth of any value. This area, greater than the combined forest area of Germany, Denmark, Holland, Belgium, France, Switzerland, Spain and Portugal should be made under proper management, to produce forests.

"Our standing timber is now being cut or destroyed by fire, disease and insects four times as fast as new timber is being grown. In the case of saw timber alone, the destruction is more than 5 times the growth of such material. What this means to the nations in the way of higher prices of forest products is apparent.

"Adequate fire protection of our forests will solve 75% of the difficulties now confronting us in attempting to keep our forest lands productive.

"At present about one fifth of the forest land of the country is publicly owned, mainly by the Federal Government. This ownership should be increased to one half of the timber growing land of the United States well distributed throughout the principal forest regions."

SHORTAGE CAUSES CONCERN

Rushville People Unable to Fill Coal Bins For The Winter

The continued coal shortage is the cause of considerable concern and even alarm in this city. During the last few years, the majority of householders have been laying in their winter's supply during the summer months and many placed their orders early in the summer. However the shortage has been so acute that dealers have been unable to fill orders which have been on the books for months.

While some Indiana coal is used in this city the majority of household consumers prefer eastern coal. Comparatively few shipments have been received here and the cars which have arrived are quickly unloaded. Dealers have found it impossible to keep a supply in their yards for emergency purposes.

DEDICATE LONGEST SCENIC HIGHWAY

Park-to-Park Highway is 4,500 Miles Long, Connects 11 National Parks And Traverses 9 States

OPENS A PUBLICITY TOUR.

Ultimate Object is to Make Easily Available to the People America's Play-grounds

Denver, Colo., Aug. 25—The world's longest continuous auto scenic highway—4,500 miles—connecting eleven national parks and traversing nine western states, was dedicated here today to all America by Stephen T. Mather, director of the National Park Service, and officials of the National Park-to-Park Highway Association.

The simple ceremonies consisted of "a world challenge to compete with the enchanting wonder contained in the federal recreational areas," which lure the traveler to snow-cooled heights. The dedication here was marked with the opening of a publicity tour by federal, state and city officials, including Director Mather.

The days of old prairie schooner travel were wiped out forever in the caravan of 25 automobiles that carried the official party in comfort on the circle swing that will require 60 days to complete. It also heralded a new era in which every man, woman and child in the country is given a share in the hospitality of the great West.

The park-to-park highway, laid out by A. L. Westgard, scout for the American Automobile Association, reaches the Rocky Mountain National Park in Colorado, Yellowstone Park in Wyoming, Glacier Park in Montana, Mount Rainier Park in Washington, Crater Lake Park, Oregon; Lassen Volcanic Park, Yosemite, General Grant and Roosevelt Parks in California, the Grand Canyon in Arizona, and Mesa Verde Park in southwestern Colorado.

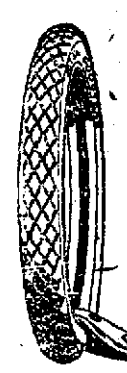

The ultimate object of the National Park-to-Park Highway association is to prevail upon Congress to furnish a hard-surfaced boulevard making easily available to the people America's playground.

MANY COUNTIES SEEK NEW MEMBERS

Drives are Opened by Several Farmers' Associations in Drive for $150,000 Goal

PRES. BROWN IS IN THE WEST.

Is Studying Co-operative Marketing System Used by Fruit and Raisin Growers

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 25—Both state and national activities featured in the work of the officers of the Indiana Federation of Farmers' Associations during the last week, while eight of the counties affiliated with the state organization started membership drives in the campaign for 150,000 members. Fifteen additional counties have been booked for membership drives to be conducted under the uniform plan system which brings the total up to thirty-two for the fall and summer months. Reports received from the eight counties starting their drives during the last week were highly encouraging to the officers of the Federation, and it has been estimated that if the other units do correspondingly, as well the 150,000 goal will have been attained before the second annual convention to be held November 16.

The additional counties to join in the membership drives with their starting dates are as follows: Sept. 13, Clark, Gibson, Johnson, Vermillion, Morgan, Franklin and Knox; Sept. 20, Perry; Sept. 27, Fulton; Oct. 4, Clinton and Green; Oct. 11, Marion and Decatur; Oct. 18, Vigo and Pike. The only two counties in the state, not organized or booked for membership drives to become affiliated, are Elkhart and Brown counties. State Organizer H. C. Reid expects to go into these two counties in the near future and close contracts for membership drives in order that the state will be 100 per cent organized before convention time.

John G. Brown, president of the Indiana Farmers, is in the West with a party of mid-west and eastern state representatives to study the co-operating marketing system so successfully used by fruit, nut, and raisin growers in California. Farmers of the grain sections hope to adopt some of the principles used in the Golden Gate state in the marketing of staple farm crops if a uniform system can be worked out. There is an urgent demand among farm leaders to cut down selling expenses and ruinous fluctuations and a general desire to work out a co-operative marketing system. J. R. Howard, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, is a strong advocate of a new system which would make it possible for the farmers to control the entire grain crop of the United States rather than the speculators, and is appointing a committee of seventeen drawn from the grain producing states to develop such a plan of distribution.

President Brown attended the quarterly meeting of the executive committee of the American Farm Bureau Federation held at Denver while enroute to the coast, and another meeting of the wool growers held at Salt Lake City where pooling and storage problems were discussed. The two outstanding developments at the meeting of the national executive committee were decisions to attempt to make sure that any revisions of national taxation laws, as contemplated, does not shift a greater burden from industrial interests to the public, and the creation of a traffic department. Both are of vital interest to thousands of farmers who are members of state organizations.

A schedule has been received at headquarters of proposed increased live stock commission rates for selling live stock in the Chicago yards. Most of these figures approximate 25 to 30 percent increase, but it is understood that they will be disallowed by E. T. Meredith, Secretary of Agriculture, through war-time powers in the control of foodstuffs which he still retains.

CEMENT COMPANY IS SEEKING A LOCATION

Wishes Site in Indiana Where Proper Materials And Transportation Facilities are Adequate

WOULD ADD MUCH WEALTH

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 25—Representatives of a large cement company which operates plants in Illinois and Michigan, have consulted Dr. W. N. Logan, state geologist under the state department of conservation, with reference to a suitable location for establishing a plant in Indiana.

According to Dr. Logan the company wishes a site where the proper materials are available and where transportation facilities and the water supply are adequate.

Indiana has an unlimited quantity of good cement materials and fuel resources are such as to make the state a favorable place for such an industrial plant, the state geologist says. The location of such a plant would bring from a half to a million dollars additional capital to Indiana.

THE RETURN TO NORMAL

The following is a letter we received and we think it worth while publishing.

"Throughout the country people are waiting for things to return to normal. Many a retail dealer is sitting with depleted stocks, waiting for a return to normal prices before restocking. THIS IS THE GREAT ILLUSION. Society is in a constant state of FLUX. The normal of yesterday is no longer the normal of today. To return to the normal of yesterday would be to discard the electric light for the coal oil lamp, or back of that to the tallow candle, or even to the burning rush stuck in a clink in the wall. PRICES will never return to normal. What we think of as a normal has ceased to be and will never be again. We are on a new level.

For years a dollar a bushel was the normal price of wheat, but it will never be again. You may not know it, but the invention of the automobile added fifty cents to the cost of production of every bushel of wheat, and it is a permanent addition. It opened a new vista to the farmers eyes, and also set a new standard wage for labor. The assassin's bullet at Sarajevo which set the world ablaze with war added another fifty cents to the cost of wheat which will never come off. Henceforth the normal price of wheat will be not less than two dollars a bushel. A dollar a bushel added to the price of wheat has increased the normal value of land, and so there will never again be a pre-war normal price of lumber.

No retail lumber dealer need apologize for the price of his product. He can look his farmer customer straight in the eye, and tell him that low priced lumber will come again with low priced land, low priced wheat, $1 a day labor, which will be when the world returns to the ways of its forefathers. It will be when the farmer and his family go back to the simple life, the life of homespun clothes, of drudgery for a bare living; when labor goes back to a twelve hour day, working for a mere existence; when the world puts off silk and puts on cotton. In fact it will never be again, and the thinking man does not want it to return again. The standard of living has been raised and with it has come the inevitable cost.

Today it costs more to put the log in the mill pond than it did ten years ago to put the finished product on the car. This is not a temporary condition, it has come to stay. We have skimmed the cream off our lumber supply. There is timber in the country to supply our needs for many years to come, but always at increased cost. We have cut and shipped the easily accessible trees. Each year we must reach further, build more railroads, increase our logging costs, to get production. We ship today from Washington to aine. TRANSPORTATION ALONE HAS KILLED THE OLD NORMAL PRICE. After August 28th a new normal will have been established, only to fall before some other onslaught of progress or change.

The retail lumber dealer who is waiting for normal prices to resume his business WILL NEVER RESUME. The wise man is plugging away at the game every day. He educates his trade to the conditions that exist and gets the business. The community which holds back its improvements for lower prices falls hopelessly behind. It will be the back number or the dead town of tomorrow. THE MAN WHO WAITS IS THE MAN WHO NEVER HAS AND NEVER LIVES. This fall is the time to sell lumber, not next spring or next summer. Prices will fluctuate at times, of course, but the feat of a great catastrophic decline in lumber prices is groundless. The dealer who lets his trade fall away without making an effort to encourage it, is following a will o' the wisp. He loses that profit to which service legitimately entitles him and he helps to make a deserted village of his community.

OIL COMPANIES PLAN FOR FUTURE

View Business of Mexican Oil is Proposition Which Will Pay Dividends For Many Years

159 NEW WELLS IN THE MAKING

In Past 2 Months Two of Biggest Producers in Mexico Have Been Drilled—100,000 Bbls. Daily

By RALPH H. TURNER.

(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

City of Mexico, July 24—(By Mail)—American and British oil companies in Mexico are building today for the future. More and more are they beginning to view the business of Mexican oil as a proposition which is going to pay dividends for a great many years.

This tendency is plainly evident despite the fact that a settlement of juridical questions with the Mexican government is still pending.

It is evident from the projected construction of new refineries, terminals and storage facilities; it is reborn in the new era of "welfare" work—the building of club houses, residences and schools for the companies' employees and their families; it gains further support by the amount of new development work which is going forward in the fields.

For instance, reliable information received by the United Press shows that on June 15 there were 159 new wells in the making, either drilling had been started or the wells were "rigging up" preparatory to drilling. A large number of these wells were "wildcats"—wells being drilled in unproved territory. Altogether, they testified to a great deal of new activity.

As drilling increases, it must be accompanied by enlarged facilities for handling the oil.

The two principal companies representing British interests, the Corona Petroleum Company and El Aguila, have concluded a tank construction program which will provide storage capacity for about seven million barrels of oil. The Corona company already has begun work in the building of ninety 55,000 barrel steel tanks. The Continental Mexican Oil Company, representing American capital, has let contracts for twelve 55,000-barrel tanks.

As a place to make one's home, Tampico is no garden spot, so if the foreign oil companies are not to retain the services of their American employees, they must make life as attractive as possible.

The Transcontinental Company, a subsidiary of Standard Oil, soon will begin construction of a modern clubhouse, with tennis courts, library, dance hall and all the other requisites of a well-appointed club. Other companies have planned similar action, while the Corona company, a British concern, is to construct a complete community at a cost of several million dollars. The program includes anew refinery, an office building, clubhouse, school building, merchandising stores and homes for the employees. Almost all of the companies are erecting residences and several have let contracts for new office buildings.

And while Tampico is enjoying a building boom, the oil production grows apace and the boys out in the fields continue "bringin' in the wells". In the past month two of the biggest producers in Mexico have been drilled. Both are estimated at 100,000 barrels daily, one of the gushers spouting a stream of black liquid wealth high into the air above the top of the derrick.

With the Mexican soil hurling its riches to the surface, the prospector spurs himself to greater efforts. Up in the northwestern corner of the Republic, hundreds of miles from Tampico, a party of geologists is exploring the state of Sonora. These "rock hounds", as they are known in the petroleum vernacular, represent E. W. Marland of Ponca City, Okla., who has obtained a concession to search for oil in eight million acres of national lands. Nearer to Tampico in the country between Monterey and Victoria, oil scouts declare they have found evidences of the coveted wealth. This field, geologists say, will not produce the big gushers of the southern districts, but will yield oil of a lighter and more valuable quality.

Oil, in Mexico, is being treated as a life-long proposition.

Is Your Blood Starving For Want of Iron?

Without Plenty of Iron In Your Blood You Don't Get the Strength and Nourishment Out of the Food You Eat

When over-work, lack of sleep, improper food and impure air sap the iron from your blood and make you feel weak, nervous, irritable and out-of-sorts, it is important that you should at once put more iron into your blood. Without iron the blood loses the power to change food into living tissue and therefore nothing that you eat does you the proper amount of good because you can't get the full strength out of it. Your food merely passes through your system like corn through a mill with the rollers so wide apart that the mill can't grind. Because of this steady starvation of the blood and nerves people often become weakened, tired-out, nervous and rundown and frequently develop all sorts of symptoms. But the moment organic iron—Nuxated Iron—is supplied a multitude of dangerous symptoms disappear in most cases, the flesh becomes firmer, the muscles get back their strength and the roses of health bloom in cheeks that were looking pale.

No matter what other so-called remedies you may have tried, if you are not strong, vigorous, hearty and well, you owe it to yourself to make the following test: See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next, take two five-grain tablets of ordinary Nuxated Iron three times per day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again and see for yourself how much you have gained. You can obtain Nuxated Iron from your druggist on the distinct understanding that if you are not fully satisfied your money will be refunded.

Young Man Takes Over Management of Refinery and Today Wood River is a Booming Town

(By United Press.)

Wood River, Ill., August 25.—The growth of Wood River—America's magic city—is due to the keen vision of an ambitious young man inspired to a big future through the advice of his employer.

That is the story they tell at the Standard Oil Company's refinery here. Its an old story to inhabitants of this industrial and home city, but it is of especial interest now that the federal census of 1920 has been announced, giving Wood River a population of 3,476, or a gain of 4,038 percent since 1910, when there were only 84 souls within its borders.

Wood River's population gain has far outstripped that of any other city or town so far announced since the 1920 count was made.

The story goes that the manager of the general office of the Standard Oil Company, located near Chicago, called in a typical young American business man employee and said:

"I've got a job with a future for you. The opportunity for advancement is unlimited if you will only put your shoulder to the wheel. It will be a hard grind, but you can do it."

"We are building a refinery at a townsite over near St. Louis and I want you to go down there to run things. When the refinery is completed I am positive the town will grow. There is nobody there now, and it will be a lonesome place to live."

"Now go to it. You can make out of it what you will. You must leave tonight. O' yes the place is called Wood River."

The young chap went home to tell his wife—just a slip of a girl. They got out their maps and began a search for Wood River. But all in vain. Nowhere on any available map of Illinois was there to be found even a dot marked Wood River.

At any rate, the young couple bought tickets for St. Louis and on arriving in the Missouri city made inquiry regarding their new home-site. Nobody had heard of the place, although a railroad official admitted having heard of a refinery the Standard was erecting out near Alton, Illinois. More questions at the interurban station finally drew reply that a local car made a stop at a place called Wood River.

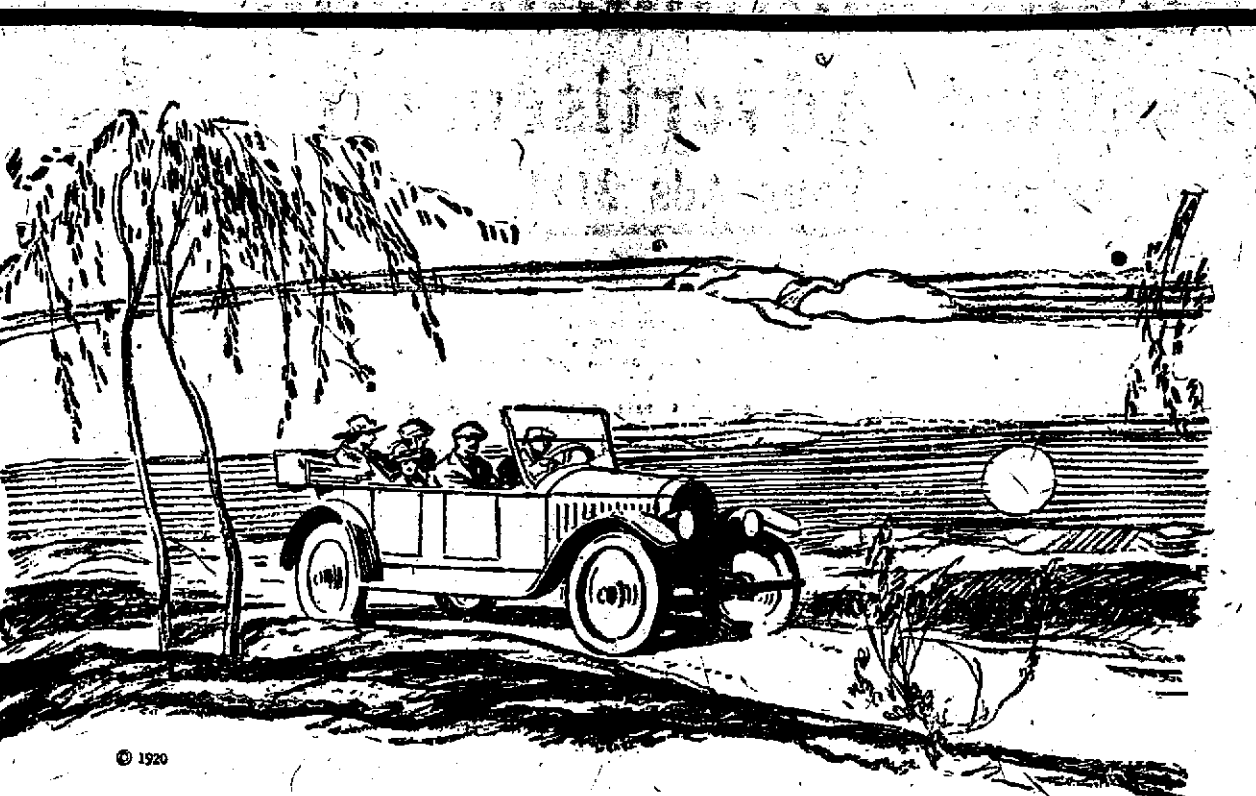

Detraining at the spot, the young couple found the town did not even boast of a railroad station, although two important trunk lines between Chicago and St. Louis passed through. The only sign of habitation was a house or so where lived the workmen building the refinery.

The Chicago boy shuddered. His wife burst into tears. She was for returning at once. The husband gritted his teeth, however, and recalled what his boss had told him about the future of the town and his own opportunities. So they stuck to their jobs. In a few weeks they had a comfortable home built, and with the completion of the refinery more people moved in. Most of them, however preferred to live in Alton, half a dozen miles away, or St. Louis, or its Illinois suburban places, less than an hour from Wood River.

Smith, lets call the young manager, was quick to see that, although the refinery work was attracting inhabitants, there was no life in the town for families to enjoy, nor any place to go when the day's work was done. So he wrote his boss that he'd need capital to provide a moving picture show, a drug store, grocery and maybe a library. The money was quickly forthcoming, with the result that when workmen saw they could have enjoyments in Wood River without paying carfare to adjacent towns, they decided to buy property and build homes. So Smith set aside some of his company's money to loan workmen for building homes.

Wood River began to grow. That was in 1910. And when the census was taken that year and when every single person was counted, the new town's population amounted to only 84. But the next year it boasted 75 houses and a few stores had begun to spring up by private enterprise. And the Smiths—husband and wife were wrapped up in the town.

Today Wood River is a booming town with all city improvements. Its streets are lined with modern homes, substantially built. The railroads now stop at the city's neat and ample station and the town's name is printed in all the roads' time tables. Nearly everybody in Wood River owns his own home. There are no negroes in the town. A few work in the plants of the town, but reside elsewhere.

And industry has grown. Besides the original Standard Oil Refineries a tannery of the International Shoe Co., and other plants, the payrolls of which now total more than $1,100,000 monthly.

Nobody locks his door. Thievery is almost unknown. It is just a big community where everybody knows everybody else, and Wood Riverans don't know where the town's growth will stop. Its natural advantages on the Mississippi river, close to cheap fuel and water power, and its location in the St. Louis metropolitan district, all presage wonderful future development.

And the Smiths, leaders in social and industrial development, feel they own the place. And they ought to; they made it.
